HOOVER BACKS CAL'S IDEAS IN CAMPAIGN

Definite Support of Coolidge Backbone of Secretary's Platform

HOOVER'S NAME ENTERED

Ohio Is Center of Interest as Willis Runs Against Commerce Head

Washington.—Definite support of the principles of the Coolidge administration will be the backbone of the campaign to be conducted by the friends of Herbert Hoover in the forthcoming primaries in which the name of the secretary of commerce will be entered.

While the White House will preserve a course of absolute neutrality as between candidates, it is an open secret that there are some candidates who have been unfriendly to the Coolidge regime who can not expect to receive the support of the Coolidge men who are outstanding leaders in the republican party.

The reasoning back of this is that the 1928 campaign is to be fought on the basis of the Coolidge record and offensively on the ground that the Coolidge policies ought to be continued.

The economic policies of the Coolidge administration, especially as they deal with agricultural relief, foreign debt reduction, and the promotion of participation in business and related matters, are known to have been worked on to no small extent by Secretary Hoover in collaboration with other officials of the administration and are not in the least embarrassing for the secretary of commerce to support. In fact, his support of President Coolidge's policies may be the outstanding point in the pre-convention campaign of the Hoover managers.

There is one difference of opinion which the anti-Hoover elements have been endeavoring to exploit, and that is with regard to the secretary's recommendation on flood control. When he came back from the south he had certain ideas which were not fully accepted by the president, whereupon Mr. Hoover backed the president's program, but the flood relief plan has not finally worked out anyhow and indications now are that congress will come closer to the original Hoover recommendations. In other words, any effort to drive a wedge between the president and the secretary of commerce on the flood control issue is not likely to succeed.

It is significant that in the last few days the Ohio primary situation has in a sense taken the whole political stage, especially in the discussions among members of the house representatives, who are deeply interested in what members of the Ohio delegation are doing. All of them must run in the primaries and it makes a difference locally whether they tie their fortunes to the Willis organization or the Hoover campaign. The idea of invading a "favorite son" state like Ohio is not relished by the veteran politicians and the Hoover men in the house are busy explaining that the situation is not of their making that was forced on them. Thus the Hoover men say the negotiations preceding the decision to enter Mr. Hoover in the primaries showed clearly a willingness on the part of Hoover men to stay out of the state if they could be assured of second choice votes. This, it is said, the Willis managers refused to concede arguing that the delegation would be pledged to vote for the senior senator from Ohio to the last ditch and until he or someone else was nominated. In other words, no second choice pledges were to be permitted. Then reports that an understanding had been discussed whereby the Willis delegates, if switched at all, might be given to Vice-President Dawes, precipitated the fight. Formal entry of the name of the secretary of commerce in the Ohio primary will be made within the next ten days.

SANDINO ISSUES DEFY TO BATTLE TO MARINES

Managua, Nicaragua.—(AP)—General Augusto Sandino, rebel leader, has defied the American Marines to join battle with him.

Writing to the chief Nicaraguan authority in the Matagalpa district, Sandino said he would be delighted to meet the Marines in the hills around Matagalpa and blood would flow in such a case.

He protested against the "cowardly actions of the Marines" in Nueva Segovia. This criticism was thought to be in objection to the Marines' extensive bombing operations from airplanes which had made several towns of the rebels in the Nueva Segovia district untenable.

BIBLE READING IN SCHOOLS UNLAWFUL

Michigan Attorney General Says Religious Teaching Violates Law

Lansing, Mich.—(AP)—Bible reading and teaching of religious subjects, sectarian or otherwise, in the public schools of Michigan, is unlawful, Attorney General W. W. Potter has ruled.

In an opinion Thursday the attorney general held that such practices must be discontinued, by reason of provisions of the state constitution.

The ruling, according to State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Webster H. Pearce, affects a number of normal schools, Michigan State college, and scores of grade and high schools throughout the state. At these schools, he said, it has been to practice to read the bible in class, and courses have been provided for "presentation of the general principles of Christianity."

The University of Michigan, it was stated, is not affected since religious training there is conducted in a separate building not maintained by the state.

Mr. Potter asserted that bible reading before classes by teachers is as much an infringement of the right to religious freedom as is instruction.

LITTLE MERCY FOR SLAYER, JUDGE HINTS

Defense Attorneys Indicate They Will Test Constitutionality of Plea

Los Angeles.—(AP)—William Edward Hickman is sane and therefore accountable to the law for kidnapping, murder and mutilation of little Marian Parker. Such is the decision of the jury which Thursday required only 25 minutes of deliberation to reach its conclusion. Whether the 19-year-old youth dies on the gallows or goes to the penitentiary for the rest of his life rests with Superior Judge J. J. Trabucco, who will determine his punishment and pronounce sentence Saturday.

Judge Trabucco's sole indication of what his final decision might be carried little comfort for the kidnaper and slayer. In a cryptic statement at the close of the sanity trial, Judge Trabucco said:

"I cannot state in advance just what my sentence will be—but you can rest assured that this defendant will be given all the law allows."

The veteran jurist seemed to have no doubt as to the route over which he was to guide the case in its final stages. Scarcely had the jury of eight men and four women declared Hickman sane than the judge attempted to obtain a stipulation of prosecution and defense permitting him to use the transcript of the trial in fixing the degree of guilt.

Jerome Walsh, young defense attorney, interposed some objection and no ruling was made. Later Walsh said he had not understood the question and probably would agree to the request. Should he refuse to enter into the stipulation, legal necessities pointed out, it would be necessary either for Judge Trabucco to rule on this point of the new law, declaring further testimony unnecessary. Otherwise the prosecution would be forced to call witnesses to aid the court in deciding the extent of punishment.

While the court and the attorneys were feuding their way through the labyrinth of the new and untested law governing insanity pleas in criminal cases, Hickman was taking the matter coolly. As the jury delivered its verdict he sat bolt upright in his chair, showing no emotion. As he was led from the courtroom he only cast a disdainful look at the hundreds of staring spectators and while Judge Trabucco spoke the words which left little hope for him, Hickman was making "wise cracks" on the way to his cell.

Immediately after the verdict when Hickman had returned to his cell with the remark that "the die is cast and the state wins by a neck," jail authorities ordered a 24-hour day guard placed over him.

His mother, Mrs. Eva Hickman of Kansas City, Mo., heard the result in the office of his attorneys. Overcome, she wandered out to the street and sometime afterward was found by Hickman's brother, Alfred, standing on a street corner that rang with the shouts of newsboys.

In the Parker home, news of the verdict was received almost listlessly. The mother of the 13-year-old girl victim received it in silence.

"I'm satisfied—satisfied and wanting only to forget," said her father, Perry McKee.

Hickman's attorneys announced an appeal would be taken on the legality of the entire proceedings and the constitutionality of the new California law under which the plea of "not guilty by reason of insanity" was entered and received.

In addition to the notice of appeal which they intend to enter Saturday, defense attorneys said they would file a motion for a new trial.

Madison Attorney Asa Keyes said he would fight every attempt to delay the case but admitted that if Hickman is sentenced to be hanged, court action probably would delay the execution for several months.

Hickman's own words after the verdict indicated that he expected to be hanged. In addition to his remark about the state winning "by a neck," he considered a request said to have been telephoned from the University of Chicago asking for his body in case the death sentence were carried out. He discussed the request in a humorous vein and said he would consult his attorney about it.

According to the provisions of the new statute, the jury did not pass on the question of Hickman's guilt, nor the facts concerning the commission of the crime. Its sole duty was to declare him sane or insane. Hickman's plea of "not guilty by reason of insanity" was a legal admission that he committed the offenses charged.

Under the new law the case must be placed on the California Supreme court calendar 420 days after receipt of the transcript. It was believed the transcript would be ready within 30 days after the passing of sentence.

Just before the Senate got well started on the LaFollette resolution Senator Watson, of Indiana, announced himself as a Republican candidate for president. At the same time the Indiana delegation in Congress, Senator Arthur Robinson and the house members, announced their support of Watson.

Another Republican political development of the day was the flat declaration of Chairman William M. Butler of the national committee that reports that the June convention might be taken away from Kansas City were not true.

Senator Fess' prediction that the Republicans might finally turn to California Coolidge brought a rapid fire cross examination from Democrats, and at last he said he had "gotten it direct" that the president "means what he says and wants to get out of office."

The Ohio Senator declared that despite the president's summer announcement that he did not choose to run, he could accept the convention nomination without dishonor. Senator Fess, Democrat, Maryland, opposed that view and said the president would be acting in "very bad faith" if he accepted the nomination after "certain" other candidates into the race.

Governor Small Selects Barred Senator to Fill Own Vacancy

Springfield, Ill.—(AP)—Frank L. Smith, of Dwight, Ill., was United States Senator-designate Friday, a title under which he expects to be admitted to the senate chambers from which he was recently barred.

The former chairman of the Illinois Commerce Commission handed his resignation as United States Senator-elect to Governor Len Small Thursday night, and immediately was appointed by the Governor to fill the vacancy.

At the same time Governor Small called a special primary, and a special general election to allow voters of Illinois to elect Smith again, if they so choose to do.

Both special elections will be held on Friday day at the regular primary in April and the general election in November.

The senate refused to seat the former Illinois official because his acceptance of campaign funds from Samuel Insull, public utility magnate, and others.

Dry Issue Put Up To Candidates

Borah Wants to Know Where Willis and Hoover Stand on Prohibition Issue

Washington.—(AP)—Political fires were burning brightly on Capitol hill and in the eddies of the senatorial debate fanning them a large and smoky question mark has been wafted to the White House, where President Coolidge sits, silently watches.

Most of the fire has come from the LaFollette amendment term resolution, with Senator Fess, Republican, Ohio, throwing on tinder with his renewed prediction that the next Republican convention might nominate President Coolidge. Other smokers fed the flames in the Senate Thursday and in their glare was pictured the names of both outspoken and silent candidates and an issue that is not permitted to rest—prohibition.

The inflammatory prohibition question was raised by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, who as its defender is deeply curious concerning the views of presidential candidates. He invited Secretary Hoover and Senator Willis, Republican, Ohio, to state publicly how they stand on "this important issue."

Just before the Senate got well started on the LaFollette resolution Senator Watson, of Indiana, announced himself as a Republican candidate for president. At the same time the Indiana delegation in Congress, Senator Arthur Robinson and the house members, announced their support of Watson.

CHARGE RAILROADS COERCED MINE MEN

Roads Forced Bituminous Operators to Break Word to Miners

Washington.—(AP)—Charges that the Pennsylvania, Baltimore and Ohio and the New York Central Railroads had forced the bituminous operators to abandon wage agreements with miners was made to the senate interstate commerce committee Friday by Philip Murray, international vice-president of the United Mine Workers of America.

The committee is now considering a resolution for an inquiry into the bituminous fields of Pennsylvania, West Virginia, and Ohio. Mr. Murray said he could produce evidence that the railroads had threatened a boycott of the fields if prices and wages were not cut.

Mr. Murray charged that the Pittsburgh Coal Co. abrogated its wage contract in 1925 without any negotiations with the mine workers.

"They invited their employees to come to work at lower wages," he said. "This was refused. In six months they evicted almost all of the employees and there came in a steady flow of strike breakers from the southwest."

The company also imported a large army of professional gunmen. They had the governor of Pennsylvania legalize these coal and iron police. They intimidated the miners."

"They manhandled some of the workers," intoned Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana. "They shot into the camp."

"They did," agreed Murray. "They often beat up strikers. They offer no pretext or justification. The fields of Pennsylvania have been polluted with an army of 4,000 of these men, dressed in uniforms and armed with machine guns and tear bombs."

"The government has been turned over to this private army."

"These so-called police report to no authority except their companies," asked Senator Wheeler. "That is right."

DON'T FORM OPINION FROM READING PAPER JUDGE WARNS JURORS

Indianapolis, Ind.—(AP)—Persons who form opinions as to the guilt or innocence of defendants from what they read in the newspapers were warned by Special Judge Charles M. McCabe here Friday during examination of jurors to try Governor Ed Jackson on a charge of conspiracy to commit a felony and attempt to influence the jury.

Opinions formed from newspaper accounts "are very untrustworthy," Judge McCabe declared. He directed his remarks to Ennis Bragdon, Lawrence, Ind. mill manager, who asked to be excused as a juror because he had formed an opinion on the case from newspaper articles. Bragdon was excused.

Controversies between state and defense attorneys also must stop, the court said. He admonished the lawyers that courtesy must prevail throughout the trial.

DELEGATES TO HAVANA AGREE ON NEW PACT

Pan-American Union Committee Begins Work of Drafting Agreement

Havana.—(AP)—A pact which resulted from the fact that Tuesday of a subcommittee of the committee of Pan-American Union delegates to arrive on the terms of the principle of the proposed Pan-American Union convention was temporarily postponed Friday. This came about when the committee took up for discussion the first actual articles of a proposed convention leaving decisions of the principle, about which controversy had centered, for later discussion. This was the article dealing with the abolition of excessive tariff barriers in inter-American trade.

Decision to have a convention of the principle for the first time reached upon the suggestion of Carlos Varilla, Uruguayan delegate, after almost two hours' discussion. The Pan-American Union delegates agreed.

The committee also considered articles five of the convention defining the organization and functions of the governing board and entered into a discussion of the political or non-political character of the Pan-American Union.

The report of Dr. Horacio Pueyrredon, president of the Argentine delegation, presented committees dealing with international law and the union from reaching any agreement.

Dr. Pueyrredon contended that the congress should go on record as condemning all intervention "whether diplomatic or forceful, temporary or permanent" of one state in the internal affairs of another. For three hours of debate in the public international law committee he held fast to this position.

Several delegates led by Charles Evans Hughes, head of the United States delegation, and Dr. Victor Marañon of Peru opposed him. Dr. Marañon's report on public international law recommended that independence of states should be always subordinate to their observance of the rights of other countries. This recommendation appeared to Dr. Pueyrredon, and to some of the delegates from smaller Central American states, to be the only way to secure peace in the Americas.

The full committee on the treaty was summoned Friday in an attempt to harmonize these conflicting views. The official quarters were abuzz over the prospects.

GIRLS TAKE POISON IN SUPPOSED SUICIDE PACT

Campus reports were to the effect that Dickson would succeed Roy Johnson, who, according to reports, would be made director of athletics. Rumors of a "suicide pact" have been rampant for some time and apparently based on dissatisfaction shown with the football team which won but one contest in two years.

Boller, ex-pledge coach Tom Mott, was taken to the hospital. He was taken to the hospital after being found in a room in the Hotel Madison early Friday morning after they had called the night clerk. They had registered in the hotel under the name of "The Suicide Club."

LINDY RECEIVES MEDAL FROM CUBA

Lone Eagle Given Coveted Prize Before Large Crowd of Cubans

Havana.—(AP)—Colonel Charles Lindbergh Friday received from the province of Havana a gold medal presented by Governor Vinyola. The presentation took place in the state department quarters in a saloon that once served as the conference room of Cuban Governors.

In a short introductory speech Benito Chazet, member of the house of representatives, recalled Colonel Lindbergh's flight to Paris and the American flights which have just been completed at Cuba. The presentation itself followed and was witnessed by several hundred people including the state department officials.

Lindbergh has been known for the tropical sun, which he wore, and dashed then his immaculate suit and turned to go inside, unmindful to the last of some pretty Cuban clappers who had crowded to the front in a vain effort to attract his attention.

Lindbergh, responding to the presentation, said, "I want to thank you for the honor which has just been conferred upon me, and again to thank you as representatives of Cuba and Havana for the welcome you have given me. I want to assure you that I shall always remember."

Twenty thousand people gathered in the famous Prado Promenade at noon to witness the presentation of the keys to the city to Col. Lindbergh.

Long before the time set for the presentation the Central park was packed with a milling throng. Including among those on the pavilion specially erected for the occasion were many Pan-American conference delegates.

ASK COURT TO RULE LENS HAVE RIGHT OF WAY OVER MORTGAGE

Kaukauna Businessmen Seek to Recover Money Spent on Defunct Hotel

Briefs were ordered by Judge Edgar V. Werner in circuit court Thursday afternoon following a hearing in the effort of C. H. Feller and William Jacobson, Kaukauna businessmen, to establish that their liens against the Congress hotel, Kaukauna, had priority over a mortgage held by the First Realty and Investment Co. of Kaukauna.

Feller and Jacobson attempted to prove that they had performed considerable work on the building because they were told by C. A. Raught, an officer of the Investors' company and former mayor of Kaukauna, that the owner, Andrew Scowles, Chicago, was to file a $10,000 bond guaranteeing the improvements. They contend that inasmuch as the bond was never filed their liens should be given preference over the mortgage.

Two other Kaukauna firms have liens against the hotel but they took no part in the hearing. The liens total about $5,000 and they were filed as follows: C. H. Feller, $3,000; C. A. Feller, $450; William Jacobson, $1,500; and Kaukauna Lumber company, $1,375.

The Kaukauna men were engaged in the latter part of 1925 by Scowles to improve the hotel.

- 2—You can change only one letter at a time.
- 3—You must have a complete word of common usage, for each jump. Slang words and abbreviations don't count.
- 4—The order of letters cannot be changed.

LIGHT BLENDING WITH MUSIC BY INVENTION

Philadelphia (P)—A basic patent for an invention to blend light with music has been granted to Mrs. Mary Hallock Greenwalt. Mrs. Greenwalt has been conducting experiments in the blending of light and sound for 27 years. She believes that her patent is the first granted for a new means of expressing human emotions in rhythmic form.

While music is being rendered by singer, violinist, pianist or orchestra Mrs. Greenwalt's apparatus floods the performer with lights of varying intensity. The fluctuations in light are intended to enhance the emotional and intellectual appeal of the music. The apparatus may be operated with a keyboard.

Years of training in music, of professional experience as a concert pianist, of study of physics, mechanics, physiology and psychology went into the achieving of the results now recognized by the granting of the basic patent.

Mrs. Greenwalt was born in Beirut, Syria, the daughter of Samuel and Sara Tabet Hallock. She came to the United States when a girl of eleven. After she left school she took up the study of music.

TIME FOR CROSSING

Trans-Atlantic Passenger Service May Be Revolutionized If Move Is Success

New York — (AP) — Speed and bulk may be rivals in the passenger steamship lanes of the Atlantic ocean between New York and Liverpool with the next few years.

Gigantic ocean liners, 1,000 feet long and with 60,000 tonnage, probably will carry the bulk of passengers and freight. Smaller, but swifter ships are planned to carry fewer passengers, but much of the express freight and mail. They would make the voyage in four days flat and save 20 hours or more in mail deliveries, as well as passenger sailing and arrival, by liberating and receiving airplanes when 500 miles, or a day's sailing, from any port.

The 1,000-footers appear to be nearing reality with reliable reports that both the White Star and Cunard lines have placed orders for their construction. The American Brown-Boveri Electric Corporation hopes to reestablish the American flag on the high seas by placing 10 of the "four-day liners" in service within the next three years.

Laurence A. Wilder, chairman of the shipbuilding division of the American Brown-Boveri Electric Corporation, has announced the formation of the Trans-oceanic Corporation, to have a capitalization of $50,000,000. Mr. Wilder has asked the United States shipping board for a hearing January 21 to submit a proposal for a loan of $50,000,000, approximately 75 per cent of the cost of six of the new liners.

Germany's colors will fly from the North German Lloyd's 45,000-ton "Bremen" and "Europa" now being built for use by 1929.

While some designers fear the 1,000-footers may find difficulty in spanning with keel virtually unsupported the 500 feet between the Atlantic's wave crests, others point out that the addition of only 48 feet to structural design already found satisfactory in the "Majestic," largest steamship in the world, presents no great problem.

It is not expected they will greatly surpass her sustained 25-knot speed nor better her regular running time of five days and 10 hours for the New York to Liverpool voyage, but they undoubtedly will require the rounded construction of 1,100-foot liners, a length neither port at present provides. They probably will to a degree exceed the "Majestic's" capacity of 4,300 passengers and considerable freight.

The proposed "four-day liners" approximate in size the new German ships, but would surpass them in speed at least by seven knots. Tentative plans call for a length not far below 900 feet, beam of 80 feet, 31,000 tonnage and a sustained speed of 32 knots through use of propulsion system combining the advantages of the Diesel engine and turbo-electric drive to four propellers.

Now requirements are reduced to one-third that of present passenger liners and fuel expenditure to one-half, while the ships, sailing daily, from each port with limited cargoes of express freight and mail, would make 37 trips a year as compared with the present average of 14.

Four hundred of the 800 passengers are to be accommodated in single and double staterooms and the others in two-berth cabins at rates no greater than the present, due to the reduced travel time. Mail and passenger planes would land and take off from a deck running the entire length of the ship and having elevator connection with a below-deck "hangar" for servicing and storage. In event of war the ships, normally not unlike the new airplane carriers "Lexington" and "Saratoga" in appearance, could be converted into that type of war vessel within an estimated 72 hours.

Plans for the new ships, the American especially, represent new attempts to achieve that ambition of the centuries, reduced time of travel between continents. Columbus was 37 days making his trip from Spain in 1492. The "Dreadnaught," a clipper ship, in 1859 sailed from Sandy Hook to Cape Clear, Ireland, in 13 days, eight hours. In 1905 the Atlantic, a schooner yacht, raced from the Hook to Lizard, England, in 12 days, four hours. The 350-ton Savannah, first steamship to cross the Atlantic, paddled her way in 1819 from Savannah, Ga., to Liverpool in 26 days. Since 1910 the "Mauretania" has held the passenger steamship record between New York and Queenstown, four days, 10 hours and 41 minutes.

Washington Reflected In Newest Novel

Seemingly, Washington also is the capital of "yes man's land." Seemingly, also the great White House dominates its shadow over a social life where the law of "bow and scrape" is respected and enforced, and where conformity becomes little more than a synonym for fawning.

Seemingly, Berthe K. Mellett has looked so long upon this scene, and so penetratingly, that if she has not been made a bit bitter she has, at least, learned to smile as sardonically as any seasoned Washington correspondent. If, by chance she does not wear this smile in person, she displays it in her novel, "The Hitting Brat," which ran back-and-forth for the honor of winning the Dodd-Meal-Pictorial Review prize.

By way of brief introduction, Mrs. Mellett is the wife of one of the best known of Washington's newspapermen. As such, she has had ample opportunity for viewing our national capital from within and from without. And, thus knowing about, she has created another young lady who might well be added to Hatcher's famous "three unpleasant girls."

This young lady is one Loretta Ellington. Loretta is a daughter of a main whose father is as great as his wealth and whose wealth is unlimited. He can run round over man and affairs. He can run everything, in fact, except his daughter. He can control anything he wishes except love and life as it affects him. In these he is utterly defeated and his daughter lives to see these defeats and their effects upon her father at moments, to detect him for his weaknesses.

From her uncle, Loretta learns she can do what she pleases and get away with it. Anything and everything is overlooked, because she is the daughter of a man who can run round over man and affairs. She cordially does not like "men" she finds all at once becomes completely spoiled and aware of her strength and her contemptuous behavior.

Loretta finds the world for her escapes. She is one of two daughters of Mrs. Mellett, who is a woman of absolute vermin and adoration. Loretta is a reproduction of a young woman who's who?

BRITISH NAVAL COMPETITION

A strange misconception prevails in this country regarding the British and American naval demobilization after the war. Most Americans believe that our government scrapped a greater tonnage than Britain. The facts are precisely the contrary. They were given in detail in an article by J. Bernard Walker in the Scientific American for December, written after thorough investigation.

What Britain really did should be better known. At the time of the armistice Britain was supreme on the sea, with 1,354 combatant vessels of 3,250,000 tons, besides auxiliary vessels. Her navy surpassed the combined navies of all her competitors—America, France, Italy and Japan. She might have kept her supremacy.

Instead, Britain started in immediately reducing her fighting fleet. She agreed to the Washington naval reduction plans because they fitted in with her own. She willingly discarded absolute supremacy at sea, for equality with the United States. Before the Washington treaty was officially in effect, she had destroyed 1,300,000 tons of warships. She destroyed, in accordance with that pact, 18 modern, war-tested dreadnoughts of 473,570 tons before France signed it, and before the United States had destroyed a single ship. She also scrapped pre-dreadnoughts of 344,800 tons. The United States destroyed only 195,443 tons of dreadnoughts and 302,749 tons of pre-dreadnoughts.

The ships scrapped by Britain—most of them voluntarily—included the following impressive list: 38 dreadnoughts and pre-dreadnoughts; 33 cruisers, armored and unarmored; 55 light, speedy cruisers; 10 flotilla leaders over 30 knots; 277 destroyers 27 to 30 knots; 95 torpedo boats; 20 monitors built during war; 116 submarines; 4 aircraft carriers.

Yet there is a crowd in this country that wants to start out in a new naval competition, building against Great Britain, when by Britain's own action we have gained equality with her, without new construction. Britain has not built above her treaty obligations since that monumental job of scrapping, and shows no desire to.

Fair play and good sportsmanship demand that Americans recognize these facts. Also considerations of domestic economy and world peace demand it.

OUTLAWING THE SUBMARINE

Our government is ready to sign a treaty with foreign nations outlawing the submarine. This is no new thing. It was proposed by the United States in the Washington disarmament conference of 1921, and was rendered ineffective largely by the opposition of France.

France is still hostile to the idea. Italy, too. And Great Britain, which at one time seemed favorable, now treats the proposal coldly. All this is reasonable enough. The submarine is essentially a weapon of defense. France, with her exposed position, and her naval power cut already to the ratio of 1.8 to our and Britain's 5, feels the need of such a weapon. If she had to do without submarines she would feel obliged to build more battleships, cruisers and destroyers, and the established non-competing ratio plan would be upset.

Italy, too, feels the need of submarines. And while Britain might consent to give them up, they might prove useful to her in case of attack by other powers. Yet the submarine is not only an inhumane weapon, like many others, but is essentially cowardly. It strikes unseen and gives its victim no chance. It is almost as cruel to its own crews as it is to enemies and neutrals, as has been proved repeatedly in war and peace.

Something should be done about it. But it is not likely that anything really effective can be done about it until war itself is outlawed, or until there are far greater assurances of peace and security than have yet been attained.

SUPERSEDING NATURE

They are ripening tomatoes now, as well as other things, with ethelyn gas. And a good job it is said to be doing, too. Tomatoes, picked and shipped grass-green from Mexico, are brought to edible condition in the northern states in about 10 days. Heat alone would take two weeks. They turn a deep, blushing red.

It is probably all right, though this is a form of the same gas that is used to eat the carbon out of automobile engines, and a professor of Purdue university advises ripeners to go a little slow with it until they are sure it will not be too rough on the inside of the human engine.

It does seem a pity, too, the way nature is being superseded in the maturing of vegetables and fruits. All such edibles, of course, are better when matured in the garden or orchard. Middle-aged people know that. The new generation, however, does not know much about it, and the next generation probably will not know anything about it.

More and more, our perishable food-stuffs are shipped from a distance and picked green to stand the trip. So for the beneficent sun, we have ethelyn gas or the steam-heated warehouse and grocery store. And so fruits and vegetables, however scientifically handled, lose their real flavor.

For years New York's millions have lived on stuff picked green, until they are so hardened to it that few of them seem to know whether their fruit is green or ripe. Now other cities are suffering the same lamentable fate. Where now is it possible, in a big city hotel or restaurant, to get tomatoes or strawberries or oranges that are sun-ripened and taste of the sun? Echo answers, "Where?"

Here is one reason, no doubt, for the lack of vitamins in our food. But we shall probably have them put in soon by artificial sunshine.

AIRPLANE DEVELOPMENT

One of the leading American airplane builders, Glenn L. Martin, is going to build $50,000,000 worth of big mail and passenger seaplanes for use between the United States and Latin American countries. He is establishing a new plant at Baltimore for that purpose.

He believes that city is well adapted, by its land and water facilities and its location, to become a "world center of aviation." There will doubtless be other great aviation centers created in this country in the next few years—many of them. There are many signs today of the beginning of an era in aircraft construction and extension which may rival the automobile industry.

The present development is especially interesting and picturesque. It may not be really an outgrowth of Lindbergh's pioneer aviation efforts in Latin-America, but it looks as if it were. Certainly that dynamic young man, within a few weeks, has drawn the Americans—North, Central and South—far closer together spiritually and geographically, and helped mightily in preparing the way for a network of air communication.

Airplanes are especially adapted to this broad field of operation, because there are hardly any international railroads and highways between the countries. Any kind of land construction is enormously difficult, because of the wild terrain—mostly mountains and thick forests—and the difficult climatic conditions. The airway is easiest and most natural. So North American enterprise will provide the equipment—and perhaps also, to a large extent, the pilots and the capital for operation.

Maine has a law calling for 10 years' imprisonment of $1,000 fine for killing another person in the woods, mistaking him for a wild animal. We have mistaken some people for wild animals, but never in the woods.

During the World War veterinarians found a way to make mules kick braying. Would it be too much to ask one of the political parties to nominate some veterinarian for vice president?

Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author
Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writer's names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

HOW I POTTED MY FIRST GRANDMA
For 18 long years and 7 short ones I have been blazing away at the "cold" bug, in season and out, using any and every kind of ammunition and ordnance. I believe and have demonstrated in a quiet way. But in all this time, I have never, to my knowledge, brought down a single grandma, until today. To be sure I have often potted one, and you had better believe a wounded grandma is a wild one. She can wield a wicked pencil! She can make a fellow feel just like a naughty boy who has been caught manifesting disrespect for his elders. She can give you a very bad reputation.

Don't take my word for it that I potted the grandma. Here is a credible witness who testifies. "You have banished the cold bug from our house, and that includes a grandmother, a bundle loving grandmother at that. One of my Christmas gifts from her was a room thermometer she wanted us to use so our house might be kept at the proper hygienic temperature. A la Dr. Brady, she has also approved of keeping our 3 year old boy dressed in summer underwear this winter, a thing she would have staged a bitter war over, three years ago. So when you despair over the old fogies, don't forget one who has been converted to sane living. We have never been faddists to jump from one fad or cult to a new one. But believe me, and not in a slangy sense, we would all change our subscription if by chance your column were transferred to another paper, and we are fond of your paper, too."

I have completely upset the dignity of many a grandmother, to the great benefit of her health, according to the stack of testimonials I have from grandmothers who are members of the somersault-aqua. Cross my heart, there are a number of letters here from grandmothers ranging in age from 51 to 76 who tell me that they take their rolls regularly before breakfast and at bedtime. But this "cold" delusion is a far more elusive target than the premature senility that is commonly called dignity. So naturally I am happy to know that I have potted my first grandma.

And incidentally may I not call particularly to the attention of the kids the extraordinary liberty that grandma boy enjoys as a direct consequence of old Dr. Brady's teaching. Grandma boy is a fellow of not wearing such underwear, just as a fellow likes, and without a holler from grandma about it. Why, when it comes to that, I'll betcha that boy can even get his feet wet or throw off his overcoat when he wants to. Anyway, he could if he were my boy.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Fancy Sour Milk
Have started to drink buttermilk, also Fermilac, Yoghurt, etc. Gloom spreads advises this is the way to get stomach ulcer. Please give me cheering word. (E. L.)
Answer—Neither buttermilk, plain soured milk, nor any fancy soured or fermented milk will cause stomach ulcer. These are all wholesome beverages if one likes them.

Fertilization of the Soil
In one of your articles you quoted an engineer who advocates the use of human sewage as fertilizer for the soil. You seemed to approve the practice, from the viewpoint of health. Dr. J. E. Gubert, University of Hawaii, delivered an address before the Pan-Pacific Research Institute on Parasites of the Pacific, in which he gave valid reasons why human excretions should not be used as fertilizer on gardens.

Answer—Although I believe human sewage would be innocuous for the purpose of fertilizing garden soil, I can readily believe that human parasites might be conveyed to consumers of the garden truck. But even granting that risk, I think the sewage of all our cities should go back to the soil rather than back to the sea. We know that properly treated sewage does not contain disease germs, or if any disease germs survive in it, they are incapable of surviving in a vinous state in the soil long enough to pollute vegetables grown in it.

Have You Cut Any Wisdom Teeth?
At what age should a person have wisdom teeth? I am 20 and have a lot of soreness on each side of my face mostly from the ear to the jawbone. (Miss A. E.)

Answer—Wisdom teeth are cut at the age of 18 to 23 years. In 50 per cent of adults over 25 years of age from one to all four wisdom teeth fall to pieces. Sometimes a wisdom tooth remains impacted (buried in the jaw) and causes sore or less constant irritation such as you describe, until it is exhumed by dental surgeon. Wisdom teeth, so called, are the third molars.

Can a Tuberculosis Patient Be Reinfected?
Is it possible for a person having tuberculosis to become infected to a greater extent by living with others who have it?

Answer—So far as we know, not with tuberculosis, but it is quite possible for a tuberculosis patient to contract secondary pulmonary infection from another tuberculosis patient, if the latter is ignorant or careless.

LIBRARY ADVENTURES

BISMARCK'S SUPPRESSED MEMOIRS

In the "Bismarck: The Story of a Fighter" Emil Ludwig tells the story of Bismarck's "Memoirs," a part of which was suppressed by his heirs out of consideration for the Kaiser. It points the moral that any man who expects a book full of political and social dynamite to be printed after his death merely because it is not safe for him to print it during his lifetime is taking a very great chance. He forgets that when he is gone his heirs will be just as much concerned about their social position and personal safety as he himself was in the same consideration that caused him to postpone publication until after death will cause them to postpone it perhaps indefinitely.

Occasionally such a thing is successful. Samuel Butler inserted a clause in his will that "The Way of All Flesh," a novel that was an attack on Butler's own parents and brothers and sisters, some of whom were still living, should be published after his death. In his case it was a success. The dynamite was given a chance to explode, but in view of the fact that it was, so to speak, private dynamite, merely blowing a family to smithereens, the publication of the book is not so surprising. There could be no political consequences.

In the case of Hendrich Heine the same thing did not work at all. His memoirs too merely contained family dynamite. But he failed to reckon with the fact that the people he attacked expressed their disapproval of the book by publishing it instead of publishing them destroyed them.

In the case of Bismarck, the memoirs were designed to blow up the Kaiser and the House of Hohenzollern. How a man as shrewd as Bismarck could imagine that his mere wish expressed to his heirs the whole of the book be published after his death overcome his heir's regard for their own safety and all the power of the German imperial house is hard to understand. Bismarck was above all things else a realist. He might have known that a dead Bismarck wouldn't have a ghost of a chance against a living Kaiser. His only chance would have been to have arranged for the publication of the book on foreign soil by persons who could not be reached socially or politically in Germany.

It would be interesting to know what Bismarck would have thought could he have foreseen that the very part of his book that he most wished to give to the world would be suppressed. The whole book, but especially that part of it, was frankly inspired by hatred. The young Kaiser had dismissed Bismarck and rightly or wrongly the latter felt that a great injustice had been done him. He was not of a forgiving disposition. The rule of his life was never to forgive an enemy or even anyone who almost unwittingly did him harm. All his life he hated his own mother because she had treated him harshly as a boy. Half a century after he left school he still woke up in the middle of the night and was overwhelmed with a feeling of hatred for some of his teachers who lorded it over him when he was too young to defend himself.

It is easy to understand how he hated the Kaiser. It is also easy to see how vitriolic that part of his "Memoirs" was that attacked Wilhelm. But Ludwig says about it. "Bismarck was fully cognizant of what the effect would be when he gave orders that the whole work be issued as soon as he died. His heirs, however, alleging moral instructions, thought it more important to protect the emperor than to allow their father to defend himself from the tomb. Not merely did they withhold the third volume from publication in the year 1898, but they continued to safeguard the reputation of William I. In 1918 after he had run away from Germany, they protested against immediate publication, and supported the action which the emperor brought against the publisher, instead of doing their utmost to ensure that their ancestor's testament should at length be given to the nation."

In this case, unlike the case of Heine or Samuel Butler, no question of a work of art was involved. But one wonders what the political effect of the publication of the book in 1898 would have been. It might have had considerable bearing on world history.

Q. What part of our exports go to Europe? E. J. T.
A. About 48 per cent of our exports. During the fiscal year 1927, they amounted in value to $2,397,000,000. The United Kingdom and Ireland paid about $1,000,000,000 for our products.

Q. The men afflicted who work at a distance from their homes had attacks only at night, whereas the women and children who would not leave the vicinity were likely to have attacks either day or night.

TESTS WITH PATIENTS
Tests were made by the modern method of determining sensitivity, the skin of the patients being scratched and inoculated with extracts of castor bean dust and flaxseed dust. The investigators concluded with certainty that the asthma in these patients was due to inhaling the finely powdered castor bean dust blown through the neighborhood.

There are four other castor oil mills in the United States. These are located in Edgewater, Jersey City and Bayonne, New Jersey and Bridgeport, Connecticut. It is the belief of the investigators in Toledo that there may be cases of asthma due to castor bean dust in the other cities mentioned.

See-Sawing On Broadway

By Gilbert Swan

New York — One of the baits that Manhattan forever dangles before the noses of restless young men of the small towns is the old Horatio Alger magnet of "rags to riches."

Hardly a day passes but some new record is hung up for a bright and energetic young man who came out of poverty into the great success. One day the newspapers tell of the bell hop who became manager of a chain of big hotels; the next it's the bank messenger who wound up as president of the concern—as instanced by the young Mr. Clarkson who heads the Chase National bank; the next it's the story of the immigrant who builds skyscrapers... and so it goes.

George White, the musical comedy impresario, you will learn, started as a Western Union messenger boy; John Golden broke into the theater by being a grave digger in "Hamlet"; the Left-courthouse skyline in New York came from the dreams of an East Side kid who resented the tenement windows from which his boy eyes looked out on life; the Astor mansion on Fifth Avenue went down under the wrecking machines of Benjamin Winter, who came out of Poland bitter against the persecution of old-world tyrants. And so it goes.

What, perhaps, the restless young man of the small town should ponder upon is that about one of these miracles happens a day—and there are 7,000,000 people in New York. Something like 6,000,000 find no miracles on their doorsteps.

What, again, the young and restless man can stop to consider is, that in his own town, the opportunities are relatively as great as they are anywhere else if he keeps his eye open for them. True, there is a stimulating competitive spirit about New York that keeps young men to greater effort than they might make in the old home town. But, on the other hand, there are those constant disappointments that throw him into deeper sloughs of despond.

Broadway actors for many years have been ever at the beck and call of any charity occasion. The charitable affair, whatever it may be, naturally calls upon the "well known names," knowing that these will help attract attention and crowds. Some take part in two or three a day, in addition to their stage performances. Off-times 30 or 40 such entertainments are under way on a single night, each requesting the appearance of certain stars.

Not long ago it was determined to make certain whether or not these performers were lending their talents to truly worthy causes. The head of a big charitable organization was appointed to look into every request and report to the actor who rarely, if ever, questions the nature of the charity to which he is asked to contribute. Hereafter every appearance must have the O. K. of the investigator.

Individual celebrities have unique ways of arranging their charitable donations. Al Jolson, for instance, turns over all the profits made in song writing to the poor of the nation. And most of Jolson's songs are great hits and bring in fat dividends. Babe Ruth makes a pilgrimage to Baltimore each year and leads the industrial school band. His leadership draws great crowds and helps the coffers of the institution where, as a kid, his lot was cast.

he at once began its propagation in a small way for his own planting. The name Hawkeye was applied to the apple by the Hiatt family. The right to propagate and sell the variety for a period of years was sold to the Stark Brothers Nurseries and Orchards Company about 1884 with the right to rename the variety Delicious. It was commonly introduced in 1895 under that name which word was registered in the United States Patent Office as a trade mark, July 4, 1905.

A. This was the pseudonym of the astrologer Lieutenant Richard James Morrison (1795-1874), of the British Navy.

Q. Between 1918 and 1922 how many official executions were recorded by the Chekka? C. O.

A. During 1918 and 1919, the Chekka formally ordered the execution of about ten thousand persons. From 1918 to 1922 official executions totaled 13,000.

Tests show handicap when mothers neglect this easy care

How often children must be coaxed to do it! This little thing that mothers know may mean so much to their well being. Now, at last, the schools are helping—teaching their pupils to ask for it at home, to report on it at school.

Tests have shown that children are handicapped—in the classroom, on the playground—without a hot, cooked cereal breakfast. To help them remember, this rule is displayed in 70,000 class rooms:

Turn Hair Dark With Sage Tea By JEAN MACON

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grand-mother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, rich color which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mossy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product for only 75 cents, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Worth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Worth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

THE true value of any name or trademark depends upon the confidence it has created. Building that confidence or good-will has been the aim of this firm for the past 50 years by constantly endeavoring to render dependable service.

NEW FASHIONS A PAGE OF INTEREST TO WOMEN BEAUTY HINTS

Women Secretaries Of Senate Do Not Appear On Floor In Senate Chamber

BY MARY RAINBRIDGE HAYDEN
Washington—(AP)—Although only one woman has actively held office as a United States senator, more than a dozen now have the technical right to be admitted to the senate floor. They are secretaries of senators, and it happens that several of the most prominent men in upper legislative house have women secretaries.

The men secretaries frequently exercise their privilege to confer with senators on the floor of the chamber and women members of the house of representatives appear there for consultations, but out of deference to the senate's tradition against the admission of women, the feminine secretaries have never done so. Instead, a section of about a dozen seats in the gallery, adjoining the section for senators' families, is reserved for their exclusive use.

NO INFERIORITY HERE
Their non-appearance, however, is in no indication of any inferiority in ability on the part of the women. Senator Moses of New Hampshire said of Mrs. Martha R. Gold, "She has been my secretary for 15 years and I am free to say that she is the most capable secretary with whom I have ever had experience, either in public life here or in diplomatic life abroad, and I'd hate to say how thoroughly dependent I am upon her."

Mrs. Gold is a trained lawyer, having an LL.B. degree from the Washington College of Law. She is a member of the supreme court of the District of Columbia and of the District court of appeals, as well as of the bar of Indiana. She is a daughter of a prominent attorney of Knoxville, Tenn. Henry S. Robbins, since the Hughes campaign, she has had the additional responsibilities of clerk of the national republican senatorial committee.

DEAN OF WOMEN
The "dean of women secretaries in the senate" is Mrs. Leona M. Wells, secretary to Senator F. E. Warren of Wyoming, the senior member of the senate. Senator Warren has been in the senate for 36 years, and for 27 years of that time Mrs. Wells has been his secretary. She is "first in the least interested in any women's activities, either in clubs or in politics."

"I would not think of letting a general election go by without going back to Wyoming to vote," she says, "but as for militant suffrage or professional politics, they are out of my line entirely."

NOT INTERESTED IN POLITICS
In her lack of interest in a political career of her own, Mrs. Wells voices the unanimous sentiment of the women secretaries to senators.

Both Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, chairman of the foreign relations committee, and Senator Charles Curtis of Kansas, Republican floor leader, have women secretaries.

Miss Cora Rubin of Boise, Idaho, has been Senator Borah's secretary about nine years and has been engaged on personal secretarial work at the senate for 20 years. As secretary to the chairman of one of the senate's most important committees, she is ex-officio clerk of that committee.

Miss Lola Williams of Columbus, Kas., secretary to Senator Curtis, finds that his office has become so much busier since he became floor leader two years ago that she no longer has time for golf, of which she is very fond.

Mabel E. Griswold is secretary to Blaine of Wisconsin. Corne Barger to Bruce of Maryland, Florence M. Conway to Dale of Vermont, Marian E. Reeves to Gillett of Massachusetts, Olive Boynton to Gould of Maine, Grace Lynch to La Follette of Wisconsin, Aletha P. Sargent to Neely of Virginia, Sally Wilson Turner to Overman of North Carolina, May Ronsaville to Shorridge of California and Doris Swartz to Steiwer of Oregon.

SAINT AND SINNER

BY ANNE AUSTIN
Faith wondered as she lay in her hospital bed, with tears slowly trickling down her cheeks from between her closed eyelids, if any sinner had ever been more terribly punished than she was. Cherry, Bob, Fay, Rhoda, and George, all of whom had clustered about her bed to celebrate her supposed cure from "amnesia," had gone off jubilantly for lunch.

And so Faith was alone with the terrible realization of the consequences of her sins of suspicion and jealousy. Cherry's self-sacrificing promise rang in her ears. "I won't take Hope away from you." That meant, of course, that Cherry would not marry Nils. The very solution of her own marriage problems which Faith had prayed for and schemed for had been on the very verge of accomplishment. Bob had persuaded Cherry to have the courage to face this tremen-

BEAUTY HOW AND WHY

HOT WATER RATHS FOR THE EYES
Ann Aylis

SPARKLING eyes, full of vivacity, are responsible for at least three-fourths of the charm of any face so it behooves us to keep them at their best. Tired eyes, accompanying withered lips and wrinkled forehead and corners, are the direct result of a painful effort to escape eye strain.

I have told you how to guard against eye strain by correct lighting arrangements. Today we will consider relief and wrinkle preventive measures. The eye being the extremely delicate and sensitive organ that it is, we must exercise the greatest care in everything we do, in or about it. First, for the most simple treatment, nothing should be attempted without the advice of a physician.

Very often the eye itself is not fatigued, but the lids and surrounding muscles are. This fatigue may be eased quickly by applications of hot water, by bathing or by means of compresses. A compress of hot water held against the closed eyes for five minutes, causes the tired muscles to relax.

After a few moments, follow with a dash of cold water to stimulate the lids and the eye itself, and you will feel one hundred per cent better immediately. And how the eyes respond to this treatment by brightening up and sparkling in your eyes.

NEED FOR WOMEN PHYSICIANS

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON
As it seemed to be woman's prerogative and duty to look after the sick, I have often wondered why no economic attempt has been made to connect her up with the science of medicine—any further, than as, then training in a school of nurses or helping in laboratories, for recently, of course, the services of women with scientific college training have been in much demand in the latter work.

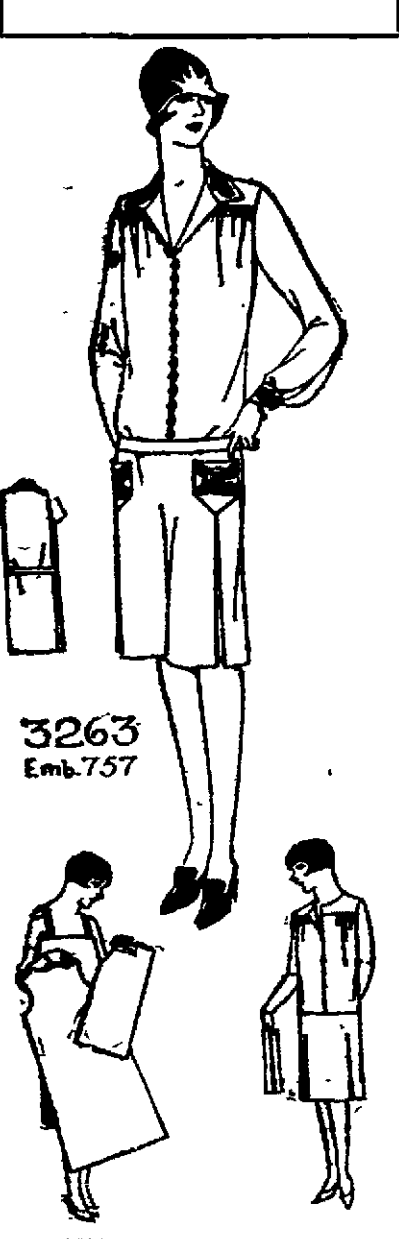

The first intelligent discussion of the subject has come under my observation, recently with the information that the Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia is the only institution on the continent devoted exclusively to the training of women for the practice of medicine and surgery. As it is so poorly endowed, and leads such a "hand-to-mouth" existence, its students must devote time needed for studies to the raising of funds to keep it going.

At medical school, women are more tolerated—they are first there on sufferance. A woman's status in the average medical school is the same as that of a male sent to Wellesley or Bryn Mawr. The odd part of it is that women doctors are more in demand every day, especially for children and children's clinics. They are also needed for girls' schools and colleges, and for industrial plants.

It is true that male physicians are specializing on the health and diseases of children. "This is called by the appalling title of 'pediatrics.'" So far, only the larger cities have gone in for the special child doctor to any extent. There is an enormous field for this work in the smaller cities and towns.

The field of pediatrics includes the preventive and corrective as well as curative medicine for children. Parents who have seen the wonders worked by these specialists in making ailing sickly children over into well strong ones will have no other

SPENDER OF THE FAMILY MUST REVISE WAYS

Dayton, O.—(AP)—The American housewife has not kept up her job as spender of the family income, says Mrs. Edith McClure Patterson, chairman of the family finance committee of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Patterson has just returned from a tour of several eastern cities in the interest of the thrift movement.

"Things have moved very rapidly in the last few years," said Mrs. Patterson, "and scientific research and expert aid have been available to help people adjust themselves to the changed conditions—available to aid out the woman in the home."

"Incomes have increased enormously, as have prices, and still the homemaker is trying to get along on the formulas that held good when her husband made $25 a week and she could buy a pair of shoes for $1."

Mrs. Patterson announces that she planned on establishing a course in spending in every member woman's club in the general federation.

THE TINYMITES

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE
THE Tinymites had lots of fun, and when the kitchen work was done, Red Riding Hood said, "My twas fine of you to help me out. It seems we finished very quick and everything looks very slick. It would have taken me, alone, at least just twice as long."

"Say, we were glad to lend a hand. The food you served to us was grand," said Scouty, as he hung a little apron on the wall. "Course kitchen work is something new to us, and we are worked we didn't mind the wiping job at all."

Then grandma called Red Riding Hood and said, "Now you have been real good. Why don't you run right out and play. There's no more work in here. If you keep fussing 'round about it, I fear that you will get tired out. To hear you run and play and shout will bring me heaps of cheer." But wee Red Riding Hood said, "No, I'll help some more before I go." And so will we," cried Coppy. "Tell us what there is to do. We'll work away and sing a song, and surely it won't take us long. Why, shucks, before you know it I am sure we will be through."

"We'll do the washing," Scouty cried. "A basketful is by my side." And, in a moment everyone was hard at work again. Red Riding Hood got soap and such. The washing really wasn't much. "Oh, go," said Coppy, "it is fun to do this now and then."

They scrubbed away and worked real hard, and then they went out in the yard. Wee Clowey said, "The things we've washed look lovely, goodness knows. The sun is shining from on high, so let's just hang them up to dry." And for the next few minutes, everyone was hanging clothes.

FISHERMEN IN LAKE SHORE TOWNS BEING ORGANIZED RAPIDLY

Four Locals of Wisconsin Federation Formed by Sigman This Week

Organization of four locals of the Wisconsin Federation of Commercial Fishermen was completed this week by Samuel Sigman, director, and Walter Chamber, Kenosha, one of the board of directors. The new locals are at Washington Island, Ellison Bay, Sturgeon Bay and Algoma.

Mr. Sigman left Appleton Sunday driving over the ice across Death Door at the northern end of the Door-co peninsula to meet with fishermen on Washington Island, Monday night. After explaining the purpose of the federation and the need for concerted action in obtaining uniform fishing laws, Mr. Sigman organized the meeting into a local with Tom Goodman, president, Albert Shellwick, vice president, and William Kornell, secretary and treasurer.

Organization of the Ellison Bay-Gills Rock local was completed Tuesday with John Voight, president, William Nelson, vice president, and Dick Johnson, secretary and treasurer. The officers of the Sturgeon Bay local are George Knipfer, president, J. Alee, vice president and Albert Kallmbach, secretary and treasurer. Mr. Kallmbach is a member of the advisory board of the conservation commission and, with Mr. Sigman, represents the commercial fishermen on that body.

The Algoma local, the last of the group organized, elected Frank Chaplek, president, W. R. Busch, vice president, and George LaFond, secretary and treasurer.

Vote was taken at all meetings to learn the attitude of the fishermen toward changes in the sizes of mesh nets and a closed season for commercial fishermen. The various problems that confront the industry were discussed and reviews of the meetings will be forwarded to A. W. Icks of the state conservation committee who is now conferring with Michigan state authorities regarding uniform fishing laws in Wisconsin and Michigan.

Fishermen in practically all of the lake shore cities of Wisconsin have joined the association and a meeting to organize those in Milwaukee, Kenosha and Racine has been called for Saturday night at the Biltz hotel in Milwaukee. When this district is organized, attention will be turned to Kewaunee, the remaining lakeshore city not included in the federation, the cities along the west shore of Green Bay and then the Lake Superior cities.

FACTS ABOUT WISCONSIN

The close relationship existing between farm and factory is evident when a study is made of farm bankruptcies in Wisconsin. In the 44 counties comprising the western judicial district of our state, where there are 61,129 industrial employees, there were 265 farm bankruptcies during the period 1918-24. In the 27 counties comprising the eastern judicial district, where there are 197,592 industrial employees, there were only 71 farm bankruptcies. Taking into account the fact that the western district has 114,000 farms compared to 74,000 in the eastern district, or a ratio of 1 1/2 to 1, this still gives a balanced ratio of 2 1/2 farm bankruptcies in the western district compared to 1 in the eastern district. The ratio of industrial employees is 1 in the western district to 3 1/2 in the eastern district. The eastern district pays out 77 per cent of all the pay roll money spent in the state and produces 76 per cent of our total manufactured products. Obviously, the effect of industrial pay rolls can be felt in the prices received for farm products when they find their ready home market in an industrial center. The same condition found in Wisconsin holds true in neighboring states. For instance, the rural south and central region of Illinois had 275 farm bankruptcies compared to 159 in the industrial region including Chicago, or about 2 to 1. The need of further industrial development, growth and expansion, with a consequent increase in the number of factory employees, the size of factory pay rolls and the convenience of improved home markets for farm products, is the urgent need of the western district of Wisconsin where 79 per cent of our farm bankruptcies now occur.

NEW LONDON PEOPLE PLANNING TO BUILD COSTLY NEW CHURCH

Beautiful New Structure Proposed to Replace One Destroyed by Fire

Special to Post-Crescent: New London—An open congregational meeting during the next two weeks is expected to pave the way for building of the proposed Most Precious Blood Catholic church, in this city. No contract has yet been signed, and members of the building committee state that there will be no definite announcement until the plans, now in the hands of the architect undergoing various plans, are returned. This is expected during the present month.

Rev. Otto Kolbe, pastor of the church, stated Thursday that no definite plans have yet been announced and members of the building committee state that when matters have reached final settlement, work will go forward rapidly. The committee includes Rev. Kolbe, Frank Jennings, Frank Pettit, Jacob Warner, Russell Wilkison, Peter Schuster and Leo Freidlich.

The completed structure, without the bell or pipe organ, will reach the $30,000 mark. The building fund of the congregation now exceeds $40,000. The former church was destroyed by fire in June, 1925.

The proposed church will face south, running north and south instead of east and west as formerly. The priest's house will be a special wing on the west, connected with the church itself. It will provide seating room for 650. In accordance with present plans there will be no high mounting steeple and the bell tower will be at the north end of the church. Because of the extremely high price of bell and organ, it has been thought best to let these details remain until more funds are forthcoming.

The exterior of the building will be of brick with sandstone foundation and tile roof. The ceiling will be of painted wood and the walls will hold the crypt will be of white marble, the floor of alternating hardwood and marble, the latter in the aisles while hardwood will be used in the pews. Walls will be roughly finished plaster with an artistic fresco. A full basement will contain the heating plant.

BASEMENTS FLOODED BY FROZEN BASINS

Backwater, Causing Much Grief to Fourth Ward People at New London

New London—Work of thawing out catch basins throughout the city has employed the crew of Albert Gessie, city street commissioner. Work in the fourth ward was nearly completed Thursday, the steam tractor owned by the city being used. The recent storm has increased the amount of water and ice at street intersections, in many cases overflowing into nearby basements. Homes in the fifth ward were threatened in many cases.

The storm of the week was no longer causing any alarm, on Thursday, due to a steady melting of ice and the fact that a fall of snow had eliminated most of the danger of skidding. The Wisconsin telephone company, while experiencing some difficulty with broken lines, did not suffer as would have been the case had the cold increased or wind accompanied the rain.

STORM AT WAUPACA DOES MUCH DAMAGE

Waupaca—Ice on trees and wires, resulting from the heavy rain of Monday night and Tuesday which froze as it fell, caused serious damage to trees and trees Wednesday. The telephone company was unable to establish communication with outside towns and service in the city was greatly impaired. Commercial telegraph service was functioning but the government leased wire which brings in the potato market information was out of order. The electric light company was having difficulty supplying the city with light and power, due to broken wires in the city and on the high line. Tree limbs were strewn over the lawns and streets and these falling limbs were responsible for much of the wire trouble. Damage to fruit trees and shrubs was also reported. There were minor accidents Tuesday due to icy roads but a light snowfall Wednesday covered the ice and made travel less hazardous.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Clark took their daughter Dorothy to the Mercy hospital at Oshkosh Monday for another operation. This is the second operation the six year old youngster has had this winter and it is now believed that she will soon be on the road to recovery. Dorothy was taken sick with bone infection five months ago and has been in a cast for seven weeks following a four weeks stay at the hospital during November and December. She is now out of the cast and will be home again in about ten days. Her mother is staying with her.

Mrs. Julius Frederickson expects to go to Appleton Saturday to submit to another operation on her nose.

COOPERATIVE STORE AT FREMONT SEEKING REMODELING PLANS

Report at Annual Meeting Showed Firm Prospered During Past Year

Special to Post-Crescent: Fremont—The following directors were reelected at the annual stockholders' meeting of the Wolf River Valley Cooperative Co. held at the town hall, Tuesday afternoon: Frank Neuschaefer, Charles Hanks, Frank Loeveloy, William Struzinski and J. F. Bachmann. After the business meeting, the directors met and elected the following officers: President, Frank Neuschaefer, vice-president, Charles Hanks, secretary, Frank Loeveloy, and treasurer, William Struzinski.

The store did a business of approximately $55,000 during 1927, which was an increase over the previous year, when the total sales were about $51,000. Disbursements, besides those for purchases, include manager and clerks salaries, taxes, fuel, interest, dividends and improvements, which were the installation of a furnace, painting the exterior of the store building and constructing a better window front. The usual 4 per cent dividend on stock, which must be exchanged for merchandise, was declared.

A resolution authorizing the directors to let a contract for converting the second floor of the store building into one large room for the display of merchandise was passed. The directors declined to accept the responsibility of action but expressed themselves as favorable to cooperating with all stockholders in making additional floor space for store purposes as proposed, and suggested that a meeting be held at a later date when some action could be taken. This meeting was held Wednesday afternoon, when Herman Bartel was requested to estimate costs and make specifications for the desired improvements. His information will be presented at the meeting to be held at the store, Feb. 25, when a decision will be made regarding the improvement.

The cooperative company was incorporated with $10,000 in common stock in 1920. The first officers were Frank Neuschaefer, Albert Zechert, Sr., William Struzinski, Oscar Jasman and William Kopitske. Max Gohrey of Hilbert was the first manager who was succeeded by Victor Zechow of Shawano who was replaced in 1922 by R. W. Sommer of Fremont, the present manager. The cooperative store serves a large rural district besides the village.

Walter Arndt and a crew of men are engaged in harvesting ice for several local ice houses. The ice is taken from the mill bayou on the Wolf river and is exceptionally thick this year.

Mrs. Edwin G. Hammen entertained friends at a card party Wednesday evening. Two tables of bridge were in play. Prizes were won by Mrs. N. Johnson and Mrs. Arthur Brown. Other ladies present were Mesdames I. E. Bauer, H. E. Redemann, H. G. Schulz, Edwin Sherburne and George H. Dobbins.

Special to Post-Crescent: Clintonville—Six new members were received into the local Lions club at Wednesday noon luncheon at the Warden hotel. They are Kenneth Spearbraker, Earl Siebert, Arthur Campbell, Clarence Miller, Edall Grant and O. R. Schwanter. District Governor Giles Putnam was present at the meeting as was the Rev. V. Bell, president of the New London Lions club and Dr. Wayne Townsend of Green Bay, a former Clintonville boy.

The principal speaker was Major William Clark of De Pere, who talked on National Defence. Christmas was spent at St. Augustine and New Years day at Palm Beach. They said that they missed the palms and luxuriant growth of shrubbery and flowers. At the time of the hurricane, the salt water inundated the lawns injuring them to such an extent that it will take years for them to regain their former beauty.

After visiting in the eastern district they crossed to the west coast, which showed little evidence of the hurricane. They visited St. Petersburg, Tampa, Clear Water and then crossed the state for a second time, going to Daytona. Roads in Florida were found in excellent condition for there are no perceptible grades.

They called on Congressman E. E. Browne of Waupaca, when stopping at Washington on their way home. They were received at the White House by President and Mrs. Coolidge after having presented a letter of introduction to his private secretary.

BECK ISN'T OVER EAGER TO GET INTO RACE FOR GOVERNOR

Congressman Feeling Out Sentiment Before Announc- ing His Candidacy

Madison—Delay in the announcement of Congressman J. D. Beck's gubernatorial candidacy, following his endorsement for that position by the La Follette faction, has materially raised the hopes of several tentative candidates.

State Treasurer Solomon Levitan has been anxiously awaiting a definite announcement by the congressman in the hope that he would be the choice of the La Follette faction to head the state ticket, should Beck refuse to become a candidate for governor. Information received here from apparently official sources is to the effect that John D. Jones, Jr., will not announce his entry into the governorship contest until after the April elections.

Mr. Beck has been busy sending out "feeler" letters to members of the La Follette faction asking recipients for a frank statement as to what they think concerning his proposed candidacy.

CONCERNED OVER SUCCESSOR

La Follette followers declared here that Congressman Beck would announce his candidacy for the governorship in the near future and that there was no possibility of his staying out of the governorship race. They attribute the delay in the announcement to Beck's concern over who is likely to succeed him in congress.

"Before deciding whether to make the run for governor, I would like to hear from people like yourself as to what the sentiment might be, so far as comes within the range of your knowledge," Mr. Beck's letter declares.

"This is a matter in which we are all vitaly interested and under circumstances will I inject myself into the race simply to satisfy a personal ambition."

DID NOT SOLICIT ACTION

"But if it is thought I can win and be a servant to the people through legislation that will be in the interest of common folk like you and me; legislation that will make the world a little better place for common folk to live in, that will give the people a little more power and greed a little less; if it is thought I can do this with the help of men like yourself, then I may enter the race. So I wish you would write to me frankly how you feel about it. Write me how your neighbors feel as far as you know. Would you be kind enough to give me the names and addresses of other active Progressives to whom I can write."

Mr. Beck points out that he was indorsed for the governorship at the Milwaukee La Follette conference and says he in no way solicited that action.

"It has been my intention to run for congress again and support Mr. Ekern or whoever the Progressives should favor as the Progressive candidate," Congressman Beck declares.

Would 1000 Tempt You to Risk Your Baby's Health?

Of course not—yet thousands are jeopardizing their babies' health by letting them suffer while teething, which often results in fever, colic, convulsions, skin trouble . . .
and worse.

Your baby will not suffer while teething if you use Dr. Pusheck's Teething Relief. "It is sure relief to baby," writes Mrs. Gus Krask, Peabody, Kansas. "It always makes baby happy and teething." For the past 40 years it has saved thousands of babies from needless tortures.

Being homeopathic, Dr. Pusheck's Teething Relief is absolutely harmless. An overdose cannot be given. It keeps both the baby and the family happy during baby's teething time.
Get a bottle today from your druggist. It costs only 75c. It will mean peace for both the baby and you.

FISHERMAN HOOKS BIG BLACKBASS THROUGH ICE

A live four and one half pound black bass caught by Henry Kleist a few days ago in Partridge lake near Premont, is on display at the Valley Sporting Goods store. Instances where black bass are caught during the winter are rare, fishing authorities being of the opinion that the bass hibernates during the winter in the cold climate of northern states.
They bury themselves in the mud, in rock crevices, under sunken logs or weeds and seldom are caught until late in winter or during the periods of unseasonably mild weather.

LONSDORF DECIDES NOT TO SEEK OFFICE AGAIN

John A. Lonsdorf, district attorney, Thursday announced he would not be a candidate for reelection at the November election. Mr. Lonsdorf stated that he had come to this decision after thinking the matter over for several months.

"I have held the office of district attorney for three terms or six years," Mr. Lonsdorf said, "and I feel that I have had it long enough and I am ready to step out and give someone else a chance."

Mr. Lonsdorf stated he would continue in law practice in Appleton.

STAGE And SCREEN

"IN OLD KENTUCKY"

The production of "In Old Kentucky" will prove fortunate for Director John M. Stahl and a number of members of the cast, including James Murray, Wesley Barry, Helene Coste-lo, Dorothy Cumming and Edward Martindale.

This picture, showing at Fischers Appleton today, is one of the best racing melodramas which has ever come to the screen. Aside from this it brings to the screen two new faces and sees the return of Wesley Barry, who has been out of pictures during the last two years.

James Murray, who has been widely heralded as King Vidor's sensational screen find and who has recently played the leading male role of Vidor's

"The Leopard Lady" comes up to all that has been said about him. He is a "find"— and an important one.

Murray carries the difficult male lead with the ease of a veteran and evinces a natural instinct for acting.
He has personality, good looks, and, unless the writer is much in error, is going to be one of the best box-office drawing cards of the coming season.

The movie-goer is slightly acquainted with Helene Costello, since she has played in a few pictures, but Helene is going to be seen more and more,
and is going to give her fair sister, Dolores, a race for popularity honors
as a screen player.

"THE LEOPARD LADY" MYSTERY-DRAMA

An unusually dramatic picture, is "The Leopard Lady" at the Elmer Theatre today, Saturday and Sunday.
In this new De Mille Studio production Rupert Julian, the director, has presented, in a fascinating and engaging fashion, a story which is different. Jacqueline Logan is the charming "Leopard Lady" of a circus troupe traveling in central Europe, who is seeking to fathom a murder mystery. Because mystery is supremely important to the picture, those who witness its solution should refrain from revealing the smashing climax to others who have a trip to the Elmer Theatre during the run of the picture.

"The Leopard Lady" with its hidden romance and heart-thrills, is an amazing picture of the lives of sawdust performers. It makes the spectacle did performance of Miss Logan as the leopard tamer are those of Robert Armstrong, the leading male role part and a fine study in an unusually artist's characterization that of a rascally circus clown.

NEWSPAPERS CLASSED AS PUBLIC SERVANTS

Spurs Folks on in Attainment of Better Lives, Advertising Man Says

Milwaukee (P)—Newspapers and public utilities were compared as public servants by Fred E. Erickson, advertising manager of the Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light company, speaking before the annual meeting of the Wisconsin Press Association here today.

"Newspapers relate world accomplishments and spur folks on in the attainment of a better social and industrial order. Utilities, likewise, are emancipators. Their services make for a better standard of living. Because of them, unnecessary drudgery is banished. Greater efficiency and economy follow in industry and in the home. Newspapers and public utilities are public servants. Both are necessary to society," he declared.

Mr. Erickson pointed out that the newspaper furnished the best medium

MUST NAME COUNTRY WHERE MAIL IS SENT TO

Parcels and letters for Sydney, Nova Scotia and Sydney, New South Wales, should have the district name spelled out, together with the name of the country, according to a recent bulletin received at the post office by Fred Felix Wettengel, acting postmaster. Sydney, Nova Scotia is in Canada and Sydney, New South Wales in Australia.

Many persons have a habit of abbreviating Nova Scotia and New South Wales and neglecting to put in the name of the country. The result is that the article is often misssent and considerable inconvenience caused both mailers and the addressee.

WAGES UNCHANGED

At a meeting of the Bricklayers union held Tuesday evening at the Trades and Union labor council rooms, a proposition to increase the hourly wage to $1.35 per hour was defeated and the wage will remain $1.25.

Uneducated people manage with a vocabulary of 500 to 1000 words; those of ordinary education use about 3000; Shakespeare used about 15,000.

for the public utility to reach the public. He quoted A. O. Buck, secretary of the Nebraska Press Association, who declared that a "better sentiment on the part of the public towards public utilities and closer cooperation between the public and utilities companies can best be brought about through newspapers."

"Today, while we use many mediums," Mr. Erickson declared, "I dare say our electrical merchandise advertising run over 80 percent in newspapers, and in the advertising of our securities, practically all of this advertising is in the newspapers. While we maintain an excellent securities sales force, we are convinced our newspaper advertising has been most effective."

The growth of public utility advertising was predicted by Mr. Erickson. "I believe public utility advertising will leave its imprint on advertising itself. It will make for more sane advertising copy less of bombast and pretty-sounding phrases, and more of vital significance in that utility copy will be prompted by an earnest desire to portray facts and conditions as they actually are. There can be no temporizing with truth. I believe utility advertising will adhere to general principles just as the industry in its growth has adhered to undeniable engineering and scientific principles."

Public utility advertising has arisen only within the past few years, he said.

and shaded his eyes with his hand in an elaborate gesture.

"Injuns, Tony!" he nounced in a melodramatic whisper.

Tony looked and laughed. Shaven was staring at a cigar store Indian.

"You throw him and I' hee! him," Stevens said, "and we'll drag him up the avenue." In another second his rope was in his hand.

Tony hesitated. He was sober enough to know better, but a mupt of recklessness whispered to him to go ahead. With a laugh he swung his rope. The loop descended over the wooden Indian and pulled it to the ground as Cherokee moved on and the rope tightened.

In the midst of his foolish escapade Tony sees the last person in the world he'd want to meet. In the next chapter.

Thousands of people eat bran regularly for the healthful roughage it provides. It is a splendid preventive. But be sure you are really getting all the roughage you need when you eat bran. Doctors say it takes 100% bran to relieve constipation. Part-bran products, at best, can only accomplish part-way results. That is why they fail!

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is 100% bran. It furnishes roughage in effective quantities—and in the most effective form: cooked and krumbed. Just two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic, constipated meal—are guaranteed to relieve constipation.

You'll like the flavor and crispness of ALL-BRAN. Serve with milk or cream. Delicious with fruits or honey added. Mix with other cereals. Sprinkle into soups. Use in cooking. Sold by all grocers. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Senator Tom Heflin Proves Gallantry At Demo Dinner

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Washington—Right as they will, the Democrats are really just one big family.
Best part about the Democrats, judging by those here for the Jackson Day ceremonies, is that they don't form a closed corporation as the Republicans do. It's impossible to imagine the wife of the chairman of the G. O. P. national committee demanding a bone-dry presidential candidate as Mrs. Clem Shaver did, wait with Chairman Clem trying hard to bring about political harmony between all factions. But, as Mrs. Shaver explained:
"I told him what I was going to say weeks beforehand and he said, 'All right, but please don't mention any candidates.' So I didn't mention any candidates." I saw the wet newspaper said I attacked Smith they only inside that up."
The Women's Democratic Law Enforcement League at its recent meeting here had Senator Tom Heflin as the main speaker, and a stormy session resulted.
A Miss Davis of Alabama, fair, stout and over 40, furnished most of the color. Miss Davis is one of those rare women who, having something to say, insist on saying it in public, loudly and not once but many times.
Miss Davis, although "dry as a bone," as she herself said, sought to answer Heflin, charging him with religious prejudice and challenging the league president's statement that 2000 persons would be there instead of 150 if the wet newspapers had announced the speech.
The husband of a lady officer of the league held a restraining band on Miss Davis. Miss Davis called him "a contemptible scoundrel." Miss Davis moved to the entry way continuing to proclaim her grievances.
Several dry ladies tried to squelch her with cutting words. Vain task! Talking louder and more earnestly Miss Davis began to drown out Senator Tom inside the hall.
Dry ladies called house detectives. House detectives heard the Davis plant all over again, not once but many times. Husbands of dry lady suggested she was hired by the wets. Dry ladies egged on house detectives to try drastic measures of repression. Miss Davis threatened to sue the hotel. Detectives left. Meeting broke up with loud cheers for Heflin as an admiring throng of ladies gathered around him. Miss Davis' crowd swelled. League officers came running to Heflin, insisting Miss Davis was from his state and

SUGGEST POSTAL SURTAX FOR ERROR IN ADDRESS
Paris—(AP)—A bonus of two cents to mail carriers for every letter with an erroneous address that they deliver is proposed as a substitute for the annual tips given them. This bonus would be paid by the recipient of the letter by means of a "due" postage stamp.
Mail carriers now call on everyone on their routes and present calendars which are bought, which is merely a way of making the request for tips less humiliating.
Some of the mail carriers don't like this begging job but they want the extra money it brings. The procedure is winked at by the government because, officials say, it makes the carriers better acquainted with the people.

ALABAMAN CAN HANG ICICLES ON FURNACE

Birmingham, Ala.—(AP)—Icicles with in three inches of molten metal have been one of the curiosities of industrial Birmingham this winter.
Demonstrating the amazing efficiency of modern insulation, the icicles were found hanging from sacks and pipes within a ninth and a half of the outer shell of an electric furnace of the Federal Abrasives company at Anniston during a cold snap when the temperature dropped below 10 degrees. About an inch or so inside the shell a temperature of approximately 3,600 degrees Fahrenheit prevailed.
The furnaces used in this plant are equipped with water cooled insulation and are used for treating bauxite, which melts at approximately 3,600 degrees Fahrenheit, in the production of artificial aluminum abrasive.

People Require A Change

to relieve the monotony of life. Otherwise they fall into a treadmill sort of existence which is apt to become mentally depressing.
Next to traveling among new surroundings the most effectual way to accomplish the purpose is to have your rooms re-decorated.
With a new style of paper and some changing of the furniture, you will feel a wonderfully renewed interest in your home. Physicians have given this advice with surprising results.
Let us give you the benefit of our advice in redecorating any room in your home. Redecorating can be carried on with less delay and inconvenience to you now than in the case later in the season.

Post-Crescent Readers Make Use Of Haskins Information

The state laws of Wisconsin provide that a mother with a child or children under 14 years of age who has not lived a year in the county and whose husband is permanently incapacitated physically or mentally, may apply to the juvenile or county court for state aid in the maintenance of her child or children in her home, the Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Washington, D. C., Frederic C. Haskins, director, informed a Kaukauna woman in answer to a question of whether she could obtain a pension.

although her husband is alive and in an insane asylum. Another reader of the Post-Crescent was informed that the duty on photographic cameras shipped into this country, and not specially provided for under any other ruling was 20 per cent of the cost. The information bureau also supplied information relating to other photographic supplies imported into the United States.

A third reader was informed where he might obtain a circular and literature which would enable him to use crepe paper decorations for his store windows. The man was a resident of Little Chute. Seventy-eight readers of the Post-Crescent made use of the Washington Information Bureau during the week ending Thursday, Jan. 26. Ten questions were answered for readers and 70 booklets sent out. The booklet on Ships of the Navy seemed to be in greatest demand, 46 persons having asked for copies. Other booklets sent out were as follows: Care of Pets, 1; dressmaking, 1; etiquette, 1; kitchens, 2; perennial gardens, 1; plumbing, 7; recipes, 1; sewing, 3; weight control, 1.

Reputation Must be Earned Daily

A good reputation is not something that can be put on ice and preserved. Reputation, like its synonym goodwill, must be freshly earned each day. Voecks Bros.
have long realized that business houses that have earned and enjoyed enviable good-will are the leaders in their line. With this thought in mind, Voecks have attempted to serve the people of this community with a high quality of fine meat, not just occasionally, but every day in the hope of continuing to enjoy the "Good-Will" of all.

APPLETON HIGHS SET FOR FIRST-PLACE BATTLE FRIDAY

Shieldsmen Must Stop Shooting of Pugh and Tadyth to Beat Loop Leaders

APPLETON
 Bowley FD
 Rafoth C

OSHKOSH
 Pugh FD
 Carver C
 Liebenow GD
 Knutsen GD

Primed for their hardest battle of the Fox River Valley conference season, Appleton high school cagers will step out on the floor of Armory G. Friday evening determined to tie their rivals of the evening, Oshkosh high, for first place in the loop race. A few weeks ago at Oshkosh the Sawdusters ran up the best score of 25-13 of the Orange after an 8-8 half. It was for this reason as well as the subsequent record of the Blue and White, the Shieldsmen have plenty to fear.

Since that time Oshkosh lost the services of Crowell and Janda, regulars for two years, but the playing of Carver and Knutsen who replaced them, is almost on a par with that of the Blue and White. With the new pair in the lineup, the Sawdusters won from Sheboygan, 34-10, after holding a 29-0 score with six minutes to play. Then an entire sub team entered the game.

TADYTH AT FORWARD
 With Crowell out, Tadyth, three-year center and a leading scorer of the loop, steps to forward and he uses his six feet of height there to great advantage under the hoop. Against Sheboygan he dropped ringers consistently. Pugh, the redoubtable sharpshooter, is at the other forward. Carver, a new man, jumps center and then plays guard after the jump. He weighs close to 150 pounds and is six-foot tall and he makes a great guard especially in taking the ball from the bounding board.

Knutsen, the other new man, also is a guard and the pair took every one of the Sheboygan shots from the bounding-board, though they were mighty few, last week under a Chair player touching the ball. This season the Orange forwards will have to step to guard. When Carver drops to guard, Liebenow, veteran guard of three years, moves to center where he can use his shooting power. Last week he showed his ability to move from guard to center well by caging several ringers.

Coach Shields probably will start Berg and Bowley at forwards, Rafoth at center and Capt. Strutz and Johnston at guards. Johnston, who won the Herbert all last year in the West Green Bay games, may be placed on Pugh. Oshkosh's best shot now that Carroll is out, the entire game, much as Bowley cared for Herbert last week. Coach-nauer probably will see service at forward.

That leaves Tadyth uncovered, but the Orange probably will have to play him "trug" as the fighting, speedy Bowley even with his fine play hardly will be able to hold him. Bowley is a small man while Tadyth is well known for his six feet of height. Altogether the Orange is in for a tough evening if it hopes for victory, but hard fighting on the home floor has over come big obstacles before. Oshkosh is the favorite to win.

APPLETON GIRLS SET TO BEAT GREEN BAYS

The Girl's basketball team of Appleton will go to Green Bay Friday evening where they will play the Girls' team of the Columbus Community Club. The Green Bay team has defeated the local girls three years in succession; last year defeating them only by a small margin. This year the local girls are determined to break the jinx.

Besides helping to keep their slate clean, a win from Green Bay Friday night will give the Appleton team every chance for state title.

The loss of Hitchler, regular center was keenly felt in the Oshkosh game but a new combination of centers and a new passing system is giving the team confidence in their ability to win over the Bays.

The Green Bay team will bring the local schedule to a close when they play a return game here on March 9. Those who will make the trip are Captain Greene, Meyers, Landers, Steiner, Schneider, Tillman, Iken, Gresh, Peterson, Keating and Miss Agnes Vanneman Coach, Miss Hitchler will accompany the team to Green Bay.

Return Of Mike Murphy Raises Card Ice Hopes

Madison-Wisconsin's hopes in the Western Conference hockey have been raised this week with announcement of the return of Mike Murphy, powerful defense man who has competed for Cardinal colors on the ice for two years.

Murphy's return to the puck sport will bolster the already strong character of the Badger hockey squad working under the tutelage of Coach Johnny Tarnapher. He tips the beam at 190 pounds, but possesses a speed and cleverness on the ice that will make him a distinctly important unit of the Badger sextette.

Alternating with Jim Mason and John McCarter, Murphy will add strength to the Badger defense that will provide real threat for Michigan when the Wolverine's sextette visits Madison next Friday and Saturday.

The addition of Murphy gives Wisconsin a quartette of bespectacled players, Meiklejohn, Krueger, McCarter and Murphy. All four will appear on the ice muzzled with eye guards for protection and as far as known will be a part of the only hockey team to have as many men wearing eye protective devices.

BADGERS CAN TAKE FIRST BY TRIUMPH

Michigan May Help Cards to Top by Beating Purdue Leaders

Chicago—(AP)—The turning point in the Western Conference basketball season will be reached Saturday night when Purdue, the defeated leader of the big ten, encounters Michigan, now tied for fourth and struggling upward after a disastrous start.

If Purdue is beaten, the championship race will be thrown open again for the rest of the teams in the first division. If they win, there is scant hope for the other contenders. Indiana and Wisconsin, also close up of Purdue, meet second division teams with good prospects of victory. Indiana expects to climb up another notch over the prostrate Iowans. Wisconsin takes on the Tailend Minnesotans.

MAY NOT PLAY

HARVEY HENDRICK

What would you do if you were a major league manager and had a .399 hitter? Quite right, you would have him. What would you do if he happened to be the only .399 hitter on your club? You'd have to use him. Harvey Hendrick, the lone .399 hitter on the Brooklyn club last season, isn't sure, however, that he's going to have a regular job this season. He can play the outfield and first base but the Robin outfield is loaded and the club spent a lot of money for Eisonette, a minor league first baseman. If he makes the grade the lone .399 hitter of 1927 may have to sit on the bench.

OSHKOSH CAGERS FEAR ORANGEMEN

Blues Think Chairs Not Real Test of Changed Line-up

Oshkosh—This weekend again, the Oshkosh High school basketball team is billed for participation in the feature contest of the Fox River Valley High School Basketball conference. The locals, fighting to maintain their record of league leadership, have been one of the contenders in the weekly "most crucial" game since the season opened.

Friday's game will be against Appleton, the team which jointly occupies second place in the valley loop with the East Green Bay aggregation. Appleton was defeated by Oshkosh in the first game of the season, but an entirely different situation exists for Friday's contest.

The game will be played at Appleton, and the Oshkosh quint will be at a disadvantage playing on a strange floor. Then, too, the Appleton combination remained practically intact, while the Oshkosh lineup had to be juggled at the midsemester.

Oshkosh is not so decidedly off-color as a result of the mid-semester changes. The new combination worked effectively against Sheboygan, but still Sheboygan offered no real opposition to the locals. The big test that the new quint will face will come against Appleton, a team which effectively stopped Herbert and the West Green Bay team last Friday.

SCHABO'S HAMS TAKE MATCH FROM BARBERS

Schabo's Hams took two games of a match with the Hotel Northern Barbers Wednesday evening at the Athletic Association alleys, winning the match by 143 pins. The Hams lost the opener by 117 pins, but came back to take the second by 60 for a 43 maple lead and then added the final game by 100 pins.

Smith and Lathrop of the Barbers tied for high game of the match, a 191. Monday night and he lost his fight with Joey Sangor, Milwaukee featherweight, in the seventh round. It was called a technical knockout, the first, so far as the records show, ever marked against Taylor's long ring record.

A low left hook sent Taylor down. Referee Phil Collins—the same official who was in the ring when Sammy Mandel took the lightweight title from Rocky Kansas here—said the blow was "on the border line." Taylor's seconds claimed a foul.

After an examination by a physician and a consultation of the judges and the referee, Taylor was given five minutes rest. At the end of that time he still was unable or unwilling to continue, and the decision was given Sangor.

Paul Frohn, chairman of the Illinois Athletic commission, said the matter was entirely in the hands of the officials and the physician. He indicated the commission would have nothing further to say on the subject. The fight, which was to have gone 10 rounds, was one of the most vicious a Chicago ring has shown in many months. Sangor outweighed the bantam king by slightly more than five pounds. His straight rights began shooting out with the first seconds of action, and Taylor's chin was a frequent mark for them.

Taylor on the other hand used left hooks, varied with an occasional jab, but the Milwaukee fighter kept coming in. There were bursts of championship power in which Taylor's fists flew to Sangor's face like lightning bolts. The pace from the first bell was exceptionally fast. Both men were prodigal with their leads, taking punishment without flinching in return for a chance to do damage themselves.

Ten thousand persons, a capacity crowd, paid approximately $49,000 to see the fight. It was the fourth meeting of these two boxers. Sangor holding two decisions and Taylor one.

BOHLER MAY GIVE UP GRID JOB AT BELOIT
 Beloit—(AP)—Signing of a new football coach at Beloit college and the retention of Roy Bohler, now gridiron mentor, as athletic director and head basketball coach, were rumored here Thursday.

President Irving Maurer admitted that Campbell Dickson, University of Chicago end, had been interviewed in regard to the football post, but denied that any definite changes in the athletic department had been made as yet.

Bohler returned his contract unsigned, but President Veck and McCarthy talked over the situation and evidently evolved a proposition that proved satisfactory to the Cub mound ace when it was delivered to him on the coast by McCarthy Thursday. It was for one year, but the terms were not made public.

KIMBERLY CAGERS IN STRONG RALLY TO TROUNCE BAYS

K-C Quint Holds Columbus Club Scoreless in Final Quarter to Triumph

Kimberly—Staging a well-timed comeback, the Kimberly-Clark Athletics defeated the Green Bay Columbus Club, 28-18, Thursday evening at the Clubhouse. With the Bay cagers leading, 18-14 at the close of the third quarter, the Red Devils, led by Koll and Courchane held the invaders scoreless, while adding 14 points to take the victory.

The teams battled on even terms during the first half, being tied from the start at one all. Green Bay got off to a good start during the third quarter but was unable to check the rally of the papermakers during the first session. The Bay quint displayed some fine passing during the first three-fourths of the game.

Courchane, manager, led his team in scoring, caging five ringers and a free throw. Williams had three baskets and three free throws, and Busch and Koll had two ringers apiece for the Red Devils. Koll played only during the last quarter. Harp, new center, played a good game. Sharff, center, starred for the Bay club, sinking four field goals. Pigeon and Nelson had two baskets apiece and the former a free throw.

Lefties Aces walked away with Bill Mel's Valley Golden squad of Twelve Corners, 48-37, in the preliminary game. The Aces led 34-8 at the half. Gossens, LeMay, and Dupont starred for the Aces, Gossens having nine ringers, LeMay six and three free throws, and Du Pont six baskets. Stingle had five and a free throw and Smith four and two free throws for the Melz quint.

SANGOR BEATS BUD TAYLOR IN SEVENTH

Illinois Battler Unable to Come Back After Blow by Joey

Chicago—(AP)—A "five minute count" wasn't long enough for Bud Taylor, Milwaukee bantamweight champion, Thursday night and he lost his fight with Joey Sangor, Milwaukee featherweight, in the seventh round. It was called a technical knockout, the first, so far as the records show, ever marked against Taylor's long ring record.

A low left hook sent Taylor down. Referee Phil Collins—the same official who was in the ring when Sammy Mandel took the lightweight title from Rocky Kansas here—said the blow was "on the border line." Taylor's seconds claimed a foul.

RAFOTH THIRD IN HIGH SCORE RACE

Appleton Center Led by Herbert of West and Gorychka of Ships

Rafoth, Appleton high school center, is third high scorer of the Fox River Valley conference since last Friday's games, Gorychka of Manitowish high having taken the second position. Though Herbert, West Green Bay star, was held to five points, a solitary basket by Appleton, he still holds his Valley lead with 51 points. Gorychka is second with 46, though he has played a full game less than Herbert, and Rafoth is third with 35.

The first place rivalry will gather further impetus Friday (tonight) when Herbert and Gorychka clash in the West-Manitowish game. The same will be true comparatively when Oshkosh and Appleton clash here for trailing Rafoth, who has three points in the game.

Oshkosh's star center, and Pugh, Oshkosh forward, are three points below his mate. Berg of Appleton is thirteenth among the scorers with 16 points. Bowley is tied for fourteenth with 15 and Strutz is tied for seventeenth with 13.

Physicians Using X-Ray For Dozens Of Purposes

Madison—Much of the feeling of mystery that people had toward X-rays is being dissipated with their use becoming more and more common and the development of new methods constantly widening the field of service of the "interior picture" system, according to the health committee of the State Medical Society.

The X-ray is now being used to study a wide variety of man's interior mechanism, making it possible to have a close-up view of heart, lungs, liver, bones, etc., without as much as breaking the skin of the patient.

Incidentally the penetrating eyes of the X-ray sometimes reveal secrets besides those carried within the body. The difference in density between real and artificial jewels is not immune to X-ray and X-ray pictures of a man's chest adorned with a string of pearls may show which pearls are genuine, which are paste and which are seeded.

"Most people know that by use of X-rays such things as the bones of one's body can be seen; also such objects as stones, bullets, and nails, should they be present," the committee says. "But most of us do not realize how many other things may be seen, such as lungs, heart, diaphragm, muscles, and fat. The explanation of this lies in the fact that what the X-rays show is not bones and bullets and such; but differences in density of the substance through which the rays are passing. In an X-ray negative of the thigh, the bone is the lightest part of the film. Surrounding this the thigh muscles form a much darker mass. Outside this the area of the skin and its layer of fat form a still darker part and rest of the film is black. The rays that pass through the bone traverse the densest part and a smaller number of rays succeed in reaching the film, while in the part of the film exposed on either side of the limb all the rays reach the film. The effect of the X-rays on the film is of the same nature as light on the common photographic film.

"The same explanation holds for the chest X-rays. The lungs contain so much air that X-rays pass easily through, thus allowing the heart which is denser and filled with blood and is placed between the lungs, to cast a dense shadow in contrast with them. Similarly kidney stones which contain much calcium, are easily seen on X-ray plates while gall bladder stones, which, commonly have no heavy mineral contents and are not much denser than the surrounding liver, are usually invisible.

"The usefulness of X-rays in diagnosis has been greatly extended by the application of this contrast in density by producing special contrasts. For example, the stomach, which normally does not show on the plate, can easily be observed in outline if the patient has just drunk milk containing barium or bismuth; for this will show up well on the plate and any unusual shape will mean a corresponding change in the stomach wall.

"Perhaps the most recent advance has been the discovery that by introducing certain complicated salts of iodine into the system which are removed by the liver, the gall bladder may be seen in X-ray films."

USED SAME STATUE FOR MANY NOTABLES

Paris—(AP)—Statues with interchangeable heads, so a long series of notables could be honored with the same monument, date back before the Christian era, say French archaeologists.

The recent proposal in Warsaw that such an arrangement would be economical recalled to the French that their research workers in Greece discovered that such a system was used more than 2,000 years ago.

JACQUELINE LOGAN IN MYSTERY

THIS IS A SCENE FROM "THE LEOPARD LADY" WHICH FEATURES JACQUELINE LOGAN AND ALAN HALE. THE PICTURE WILL BE SHOWN AT THE ELITE THEATRE FRIDAY, SATURDAY AND SUNDAY.

As the name of the temporarily famous persons could be inscribed just under the head, it was possible to make a new head in the likeness of the new notable and put it on the old marble base, for as long as the notable needed to be honored.

Inquiring minds have learned that a large percentage of the statues in Paris are of persons long forgotten and whose title to fame seems to them today, rather dim. "Why," they ask, "wouldn't it be a good idea to revive the interest in the monument and let time determine if the notable's fame will justify permanent tribute?"

NAPOLEON'S KINSMAN GETS 64 CENT FINE

Paris—(AP)—Napoleon Bonaparte's great nephew, Napoleon Bonaparte-Wyse, has been fined sixteen francs, or 64 cents, for violating the funeral of France.

As a Bonaparte, he retains the family pride in France and loved for it and when his English wife died two years ago he promptly took the body to the Riviera and had her buried there. Ancestral by his name the lower officials did not exact compliance with the complicated procedure in such cases but in due time the higher authorities took up the case and although the descendant of the Emperor's brother Lucien never appeared in court the fine was imposed. It has not yet been paid.

SICK HEADACHE

Be suspicious of persistent sick headaches, dizzy spells or floating specks before the eyes. They usually indicate a poisoned condition of the system which leads to high blood pressure. Due to our abnormal habits of living we place too great a strain upon the vital organs, especially the liver.

The liver becoming weak or sluggish fails to cleanse the blood of the poisons formed in food waste. The whole system becomes toxic then, affecting stomach, kidneys, heart, blood pressure and blood vessels.

The liver occasionally needs a little help, and there's nothing better for this, as medical men now know, than a little ox gall. Ox gall is a remarkable natural stimulant for the human liver, promoting its normal active functioning, so essential to real health. Dioxol tablets are genuine ox gall in dainty and tasteless form, each tablet representing 10 drops of pure ox gall. To be sure of getting the genuine ox gall, be sure of getting Dioxol. They cost less than 2c each at good druggists, and a few tell.

Free Test Take this ad to the druggist named below and he will give you a free sample of Dioxol tablets. Try them yourself. See the splendid, quick results. One trial of Dioxol and you will want a full package!

the new A.C. set

Model 37

The astonishing price of the new, six-tube, FULL-VISION Dial, self-contained A.C. set includes everything except tubes and a speaker. No power accessories required—no batteries, no charger. For use with 110-115 volt, 60-cycle, alternating current. Uses six A.C. amplifying tubes, and one rectifying tube.

Why don't we boost it harder?

AFTER a few days' experience with the new Atwater Kent A.C. set, radio listeners say to us:

"You didn't tell us half when you said this was a good set. It's more than good. It's a wonder! Why don't you boost it harder?"

We do boost it. The trouble is that words cannot tell the whole story. A few evenings in your home—that's the way to find out—from the Atwater Kent 37 itself.

It is so small you can place it anywhere. The cord that brings the power from a lamp socket of the house lighting system (at a cost of only a fraction of a cent an hour) is more than ten feet long—giving you your choice of position. The unusual design and the soft glowing beauty of the satin finish please everybody.

Now for listening!

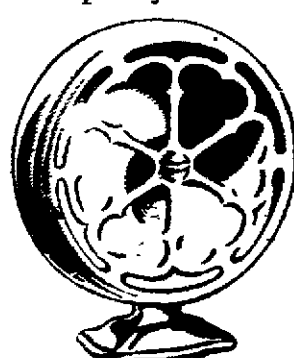

With a tiny gold switch you snap on the power. With the FULL-VISION Dial you summon the programs. It's magic—this FULL-VISION Dial. You see it all at a glance. You jump from station to station in a split second. It's like hitting the bull's-eye with every shot!

And the tone! When you realize that the re-creative genius of this set does full justice to the voices of the artists and the music of their instruments, you will marvel how such perfection can be attained.

Raise the lid!

For your answer—raise the lid and make a closer examination than you had time for in your first eagerness to see what the set would do.

You will see how the space-saving compactness of the set has been accomplished—how the cabinet is so constructed that it completely shields the electrical assembly inside—how the power supply is doubly shielded—how every visible part is beautifully made and finished. You will know it to be a fact when we tell you that the parts you don't see—even the tiniest of them—have received equal attention. You will know that all this counts in the performance of the Atwater Kent 37—in your lasting satisfaction.

Radio's truest voice. All parts protected against moisture. Comes in a variety of beautiful color combinations.

How they talk about it!

Lasting satisfaction! You must have it. That is why we match every working part of every receiver—why we put every receiver through 222 tests or inspections—why many parts are tested for accuracy to a fraction of a thousandth of an inch—why every tenth employee in the whole 15-acre Atwater Kent factory is an inspector or tester.

That is why so many people—veterans of radio and novices—have bought this new self-contained A.C. set—why many are buying two sets for different parts of their homes—why they're telling their friends about it and the astonishingly low price made possible by big-scale production—why, almost overnight, the Atwater Kent 37 has become the most popular radio in the world.

Try it. You'll see!

If you must use batteries

MODEL 33 is an extra-powerful, extra-selective battery set. Designed for use where unusual results are necessary but A.C. electricity is not available. FULL-VISION Dial. Solid mahogany cabinet. Six tubes required. Price, without accessories, $75.

40 KAUKAUNA BOYS AT SCOUT "PARTY"

Youngsters Take Part in Interesting Program at Neenah

Kaukauna.—About 40 Kaukauna boys scouts attended the boy scout birthday party at Neenah Wednesday evening. Each of the troops put on a skit and the Kaukauna troop presented a musical act. Many of the scouts are members of the Kaukauna high school band.

The party was a part of boy scout week celebrated throughout the country. Each troop has been given a definite program to work out, according to the C. R. Rupp. Each troop is urged to do a good deed every day during the week. Friday is Civic day and the scouts are to do a good turn for their city. Hike day will be observed on Saturday and the Kaukauna scouts will make a seven mile hike. The scout will mobilize on the island early Saturday morning.

Plans are being made by the Kaukauna Post of the American Legion to take charge of a scout troop now in the process of organization.

Neenah has always been noted for its strong court teams. Appleton has lost twice to them. Both Neenah and Kaukauna have been defeated by Two Rivers in conference game but the former lost by the small margin while the Orange and Black was completely outclassed.

Coach Harry McAndrews will start E. Miller at center with his forwards chosen from among N. L. Derus, Captain Adler, Karl Farwell and Harold Doring while those eligible for the guard positions are R. Sager, R. Ferguson and M. Miller. The coach still has Richard Landreman to use at the pivot position.

CONVINCE YOURSELF AS THOUSANDS OF OTHERS HAVE — by this personal health test

THE thousands who have made this test were not invalids. They considered themselves well, just as you do. But they realized that something was slowing them up, interfering with their sleep, robbing them of some of the joy in life that should have been theirs.

So they did this: They dropped caffeine beverages from their diet for thirty days—made Postum their mealtime drink instead. Before the thirty days were up, they were convinced!

Convinced that Postum is a great drink in its own right—a drink with a delightful flavor all its own. Convinced that Postum is a wonderful aid to health—a drink that never keeps you awake, never jangles your nerves, never causes headaches or indigestion, as caffeine beverages do. On a basis of results—because they knew Postum helped them—they made it their mealtime drink for life!

Try it yourself!

Set aside the next thirty days for your health test! Let Postum take the place of caffeine beverages in your diet! Then watch your improvement! See how much better you feel! Your grocer has Postum in two forms—Instant Postum, prepared instantly in the cup, and Postum Cereal, the kind you boil. Both are made of roasted whole wheat and bran—no trace of artificial stimulants in them. Both have the flavor millions prefer. Both cost much less than most other mealtime drinks. Order today!

GOVERNMENT ORDERS TEMPORARY BRIDGE TAKEN OFF LOCKS

Little Chute Citizens Face Serious Problem Unless Or- der is Rescinded

The county highway department Thursday was ordered by the United States department to remove the temporary bridge which has been built at Fox river east of Little Chute while construction of a new bridge is in progress. The order was issued, according to the letter received by A. G. Bruzewicz, county highway commissioner, because the temporary structure is resting on the lock walls which are not strong enough to carry such a load.

The order states that inasmuch as the highway department had not been ordered to construct a temporary bridge, the structure now in use should be removed at once.

Mr. Bruzewicz has ordered the bridge closed to traffic and has written to the Milwaukee office of the war department for permission for pedestrians to use the bridge. He points out that it is the only means of reaching the mills on the south side of the river and that if the bridge must be removed residents of Little Chute who work in the mills will have to travel several miles, either to Kimberly or to Kaukauna, to cross the river.

The contract for construction of the new bridge was awarded several weeks ago to Simpson-Parker Construction company of Appleton. Last week county highway crews removed the old bridge and it was installed west of the former site to be used temporarily to cross the river.

Work on the new structure is advancing rapidly and it is to be completed by April 1 so that opening of navigation will not be delayed. The bridge will not be opened to traffic until early in May.

The beds, chairs and stove were constructed from the large, new wooden blocks recently purchased. Both the work room and the music room were in operation at the same time.

How To Play Bridge

Game-Going Suit-Bids
In previous articles of this series we have considered the strength requisite for suit-bids of one, two and three; but we have not discussed the strength required for original game-going suit-bids. In this connection it should be remembered that while there is a difference between the strength required for bid of one, depending upon the location of the play or at the table—requiring greater strength to open the bidding Fourth Hand than Third, and Third Hand than either Second or First—there is no difference in the strength required for original bids of two or more, regardless of the place at the table occupied by the bidder, and of course this doctrine applies to game-going suit-bids. These bids should be made with a hand so strong that it would be dangerous to bid one less than

MENASHA MAN HELD ON SERIOUS CHARGE

Police Arrest Man Accused of Inducing Menasha Girl to Go Away With Him

Edward Roberts, Menasha, was brought to Appleton Thursday night from Oshkosh by Police Chief George T. Prim, and Officer Carl Radtke, and is to be arraigned before Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court Friday morning on a charge of inducing a Menasha girl to go away with him. Roberts was arrested in Oshkosh after he had been paroled by the Oshkosh court when he pleaded guilty to non-support.

The complaint against Roberts is made by Fred Diehl, route 2, Appleton, father of Miss May Belle Diehl, 27, who was found in Fillmore, Utah, in December, 1927, after a nationwide search. Mr. Diehl charged that Roberts induced his daughter to leave Appleton with him promising to marry her. At that time Roberts had a wife and three children living at Menasha. The Diehl girl left her home about Sept. 10 with Roberts and her parents became alarmed when they failed to hear from her. Roberts was arrested in November in Utah on a warrant charging him with non-support and when he was returned to Oshkosh he declared he left Miss Diehl at Fillmore. Inquires there failed to bring any response and the matter was turned over to the newspapers and within 24 hours Miss Diehl had been located. She was working in a hotel in Fillmore.

MOROWEK ARRESTED ON NON-SUPPORT CHARGE

Paul Morowek, Appleton, was arrested Friday morning by Sheriff Otto Zuehlke on a warrant charging non-support. The complaint against Morowek was made on Nov. 15 and it alleges that he failed to support his five children, all between 10 and 16 years of age. Morowek was confined to the county jail and it was expected he would go before Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court Friday afternoon.

WHISKERS' WHISKERS NO LONGER VISIBLE SINCE HE RAN AWAY

Whiskers' whiskers are not the same since he ran away. Whiskers, the canine pet of the Williams family, 1308 S. Oneida-st., he ran away last Wednesday for no good reason at all and was found Friday, after his owners had placed an ad in the Post-Crescent. Whiskers came home alright—and how! A luscious adornment of no mean proportions that had once graced his chin in gone. Gone was the mark by which the five-month-old youngster had derived his name. The welcome received on the wanderer's return, however, would not indicate that the whiskers made much difference.

MOBILIZATION CALL FOR BOY SCOUTS TO END WEEK'S PROGRAM

Much Activity Has Marked Eighteenth Anniversary of Founding in U. S.

Two hundred and fifty boy scouts, members of valley council, will mobilize for an emergency in Appleton sometime Saturday. The call for mobilization will be issued by Mayor A. C. Rude and will be passed on to leaders of every unit. Appleton, Neenah-Menasha and Kaukauna. The point of mobilization will also be made in the order.

Mobilization of boy scouts for emergency is being carried on all over the country as part of the celebration of the eighteenth anniversary of the founding of the scout organization. The plan originated with the Red Cross, which has found the services of scouts helpful at times of flood and tornadoes. The valley council is being mobilized for the first time in the history of local activity.

After the boys arrive here the scoutmasters will be given orders placing them and their troops at several strategic points in the city. When final plans have been carried out, the boys will all meet at the vocational school auditorium where they will be guests of the local Walton league. Seven reels of motion pictures on Conservation of the forest will be shown and two reels of Colonel Charles Lindbergh's transatlantic flight last May. Ben Rohan, superintendent of schools will address the boys on how scouts can aid in conservation work.

Following the conservation program, Robert Skelton, Olympic swimming star and Red Cross life saving representative, will give a demonstration in methods of life saving and first aid work.

Businessmen Divided Over Need For Traffic Signals

Interviews with five businessmen in the downtown district Friday morning indicated there is no means a united opinion on the part of large taxpayers that traffic lights are required in all the places recommended by the streets and bridges committee of the common council.

Two of the men interviewed were outspoken in their opposition to the common council program, one man favored it, one man said he was not in a position to pass judgment and the fifth doubted the wisdom of erecting traffic signals on streets which end a few feet after they cross College-ave.

Here is what they said: John Britt—I do not believe the traffic signals lights are necessary at this time as the traffic on College-ave is not so heavy as to warrant the expenditure of $5,000 to furnish equipment for regulation. I believe that when Highway 41 is rerouted over some other street the congestion which is now said to exist on College-ave will be relieved considerably and traffic lights will be a hindrance rather than a help.

John Conway—I believe on a minimum rather than a maximum of laws and I think it would be a good idea to repeal half of the present ordinances rather than to establish more rules for the people to follow. Traffic on College-ave is not so heavy that regulation lights are needed and if they are installed I believe they will slow up rather than hurry up the motorists.

Most accidents occur through starting and stopping automobiles and the installation of the lights would therefore create a hazard instead of a help. And further I do not think the city council should be spending money for something that is not absolutely necessary as the city's financial standing is none too good at present. But then the council seldom pays attention to what the public says anyway so what's the use discussing this matter.

R. J. Zuehlke—While I have not given the matter much thought, it seems to me that traffic lights on

STOCK PRICES GO LOWER ON FRIDAY

Initial Losses of Point or More in Several Major Stocks

New York—(AP)—Stock prices moved irregularly lower at the opening of Friday's market. Initial losses of a point or more were recorded by Greene Cananea Copper, Atlantic Refining and United States Steel common. General Motors, American Smelting and other leaders of Thursday declined fractionally. General Electric opened 14 points higher.

Selling pressure developed from an increase in brokers' loans. Early selling was directed chiefly against the electric, oil and copper and some of the specialties which have been prominent in the recent up-swings. American Zinc preferred quickly sold off two points and among the many issues to yield a point or more were Crucible and Vanadium steels, Mont-
